First view of Victoria for tourists arriving by ship is this miscellaneous assortment of flotsam and jetsam floating around in the Inner Harbor. George Warren, commissioner of the Publicity Bureau, calls conditions "deplorable," especially at low tide, when nostrils as well as eyes are offended. For the past two years, city has had a man under contract to keep harbor as clean as possible, but he works only at the July-August peak of the tourist season. Warren urges a clean-up campaign now. (Times Photo.)

SAANICH LIQUOR VOTE EXPECTED IN JULY

Provincial government officials said today that a liquor plebiscite in Saanich Municipality is unlikely before the end of June.

Following official notification of the municipal council's request for a plebiscite on the new liquor outlets, provincial officials will issue a writ, advertise seven clear days for registration of voters not on the voters' list, and then set the final voting date.

About 17,500 voters will be eligible to cast a ballot in the plebiscite.

A returning office may be established in the municipality to handle registrations.

The vote will be on all four types of liquor outlets; dining rooms, dining lounges, lounges and public houses. (See story, Page 3.)

Chinese Nationalists Claim War Victories

Sink Red Gunboat; Damage Jet Fighter As War Steps Up; Formosa Under Guard

TAIPEH, Formosa (UP)—Chinese Nationalist aircraft damaged a Red Chinese MIG-15 jet fighter and Nationalist destroyers sank an enemy gunboat and damaged another in bitter fighting along the China coast today, the Nationalists announced.

Nationalist losses in the latest round of the week-old flareup of Asia's oldest war were not reported.

Nationalist propeller-driven planes, carrying the war into the skies against the sleek enemy jets, sent one smoking toward Red China along the Chekiang coast south of Shanghai. On the sea, Nationalist destroyers caught the smaller gunboats, sinking one outright with shellfire and damaging another before it escaped under the protection of Red Chinese shore batteries. Meanwhile, the Communists were bringing pressure on the Taichung Islands, "the invasion bridge of Formosa." Unconfirmed reports said fighting has already broken out there.

Authoritative sources said the Reds will attempt to take the island, if indeed they have not already started.

Large flights of Nationalist planes flew over Formosa to guard against threatened Communist air attacks on the Nationalist stronghold.

$3,000 Damage To Duncan Shop In Early Blaze

Street Cleaner Calls Firemen

A fierce, early-morning blaze today caused more than $3,000 damage to a Duncan store, which might have been completely gutted if a street cleaner had not started work at an earlier hour.

Cause of the fire which destroyed merchandise and fixtures of Westwell's Stationery and China store, Station Street, is not known.

F. W. Bentley, street cleaner, spotted the blaze when he started work at 5.30 a.m., well in advance of his usual time. "I noticed a reflection on one of the windows," he said. "I thought at first it was the sun, then I walked to the store and saw flames spreading along a counter."

Duncan Volunteer Fire Department responded promptly to Mr. Bentley's alarm, and quickly got the blaze under control, but not before the stock was extensively damaged.

Among items completely destroyed were cameras, cigarettes, stationery, china, and equipment. Considerable water damage was also sustained. Owner of Westwell's is Mrs. M. W. Cook and Dorothy Cook is manageress.

WIRE BRIEFS

U.K. Rail Strike

LONDON—A wildcat strike of more than 1,000 locomotive engineers and firemen tied up rail transportation throughout the west of England and Wales today. In some parts of Devon, bus drivers refused to operate emergency services.

Blasts Injure Seven

SANTA FE SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Two explosions heard five miles away touched off a huge fire at the $3,000,000 Rothchild Oil Company refinery today, injuring at least seven employees.

Fishermen Escape

VANCOUVER (UP)—A near-tragedy marked the opening of British Columbia's 1954 halibut season Monday when three fishermen narrowly escaped drowning after their 55-foot seiner sank off Hecate Island.

The trio were Lawrence A. Doving, Arnold Wennberg and Robert Wanous, all of Vancouver.

Pakistan Arrests Communist Leaders

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—Police today arrested 11 of Karachi's Communist leaders, and indicated more will be rounded up shortly.

The arrests were made under the Pakistan Safety Act which permits jailing without trial, and were launched in the wake of warnings by Premier Mohammed Ali Jinnah that "the foul conspiracy of Communists should be crushed" in this Moslem state.

1,000 Strain Police Lines At Funeral of Tin Heiress

PARIS (Reuters)—A crowd of 1,000 surged against police lines today outside a flower-filled church here to witness Catholic funeral rites for runaway heiress Isabella Patino Goldsmith.

Throngs of cyclists and pedestrians followed the mournful funeral procession through Paris streets to St. Honore d'Eylau Church in the Bois de Boulogne Park.

They massed outside as mass was celebrated for the 18-year-old Bolivian beauty, who died of a brain hemorrhage last Saturday only a few hours after giving birth to a baby girl.

Jimmy Goldsmith, British hotel magnate's son who married Isabella four months ago after a whirlwind elopement to Scotland, followed his father-in-

SURE, AND THERE WAS NIVER A BROKEN HEAD!

DUBLIN (AP)—The Republic of Ireland today conducted one of the most orderly parliamentary elections in its brief history.

Accounts from all 26 counties of the independent republic said voters turned out early in a good humor to choose between followers of Prime Minister Eamon de Valera and John A. Costello.

Polling stations are open 12 hours. The prevailing mild weather is expected to give de Valera some advantage. The 71-year-old prime minister's Fianna Fail men of destiny party draws its chief strength from rural areas.

Train Fireman Succumbs; Kootenay River Rise Critical

(From BUP and CP Dispatches)

British Columbia flood waters claimed their first life Monday night.

W. H. Wade, fireman on a CNR train that was derailed near Prince George early Saturday morning died in the Prince George Hospital of his injuries. He was one of eight persons injured when the passenger train hit a washout caused by a flash flood. Surgeons amputated a leg in an effort to save Wade's life.

260 VARIETIES OF 'BANGER'

LONDON (CP)—Come what may, Food Minister Gwilym Lloyd-George told the House of Commons Monday night, he is determined to find out just what goes into a British sausage.

Commonly known as a banger because of its fancied resemblance to a torpedo, the sausage has been surrounded by an aura of mystery ever since the meaty days of the Second World War when milk powder and bread infiltrated into its casing in substitution for the standard meat filling.

In an attempt to dispel the fog, Lloyd-George told the House, he is polling city health departments throughout the United Kingdom and has so far received 260 highly variant replies.

Major B.C. Hydro Plans Under Discussion Wednesday

A conference which could hold the key to construction of a multi-million dollar hydro-electric development on the Columbia River basin will be held in Victoria Wednesday.

Lands and Forests Minister R. E. Sommers, and members of the Columbia River Basin Advisory Committee will grapple with the all-important matter of a payment for up-stream and down-stream benefits on international hydro development.

At least three B.C. and U.S. power dams are being held up while the provincial government, and the International Joint Commission arrive at a formula for payment.

Wednesday's conference will see a concerted effort being made to clear the way for construction of dams at Mica Creek in B.C., at Libby, Montana, and at an undetermined site by the Kaiser Aluminum Co.

There is no precedent for the committee to follow in arriving at a decision. If the conference does find a formula, the plan probably will be presented to the northwest governors' power policy meeting on June 23.

Several possible formulas are being rumored, although B.C.'s position has not been revealed. It could call for an inter-exchange of power, in perpetuity, or a straight cash settlement. Officials said B.C. does not favor the cash proposal.

Little Hope Canadian Troops to Quit Korea

OTTAWA (CP)—A reference in a government white paper on defense to possible withdrawal of Canadian troops from Korea is a "pious hope," informants said today.

The white paper, tabled in the Commons Monday by Defense Minister Claxton, said: "It is hoped that the situation in Korea may improve to permit some reduction to Canadian forces there in the not too distant future."

"There has been no development at Geneva that would make withdrawal of Canadian troops any more likely than a few months ago," one official said.

Marching Column Answers Truce-Blasting Bombers

(Compiled From Reuters and UP Dispatches)

HANOI, Indo-China—The French high command tonight announced the first official news that a Viet Minh Communist army of 30,000 men is marching on the Red River Delta, last French bastion in northern Indo-China.

Meanwhile every French bomber and fighting plane in Indo-China was thrown into an all-out attack today on the Red forces pouring down the strategic highway from Dien Bien Phu to Hanoi under protection of a "mercy truce."

B-26 Marauders and four-engined Privateers dropped 500-pound and 1,000-pound explosives on every convoy spotted between Dien Bien Phu and the town of Tuan Gao.

It was the first attack since the French ended at midnight their no bombing truce which the Reds had used to rush reinforcements from Dien Bien Phu to the Delta.

Fighter bombers joined the attack later.

The 30 miles of twisting mountain road connecting the ruined fortress and Tuan Gao had been thick with Red troops and supply trucks moving toward the Delta's flanks.

The French had agreed not to bomb the road, believing the Red Indo-Chinese would carry out their promise to evacuate Dien Bien Phu's wounded, but instead the Communists used the airlift as a smokescreen to hide their troop movements.

However, the Viet Minh conquerors of Dien Bien Phu have released 18 more French Union wounded from the fallen fortress, the French high command announced tonight.

The high command announcement did not indicate whether the casualties had been turned over before the heavy air assault, centering on a high-way neutralized since Friday as a hospital route for the Communist-led rebel wounded. It also did not specify whether the wounded actually had reached French-held territory or whether they have been turned over to French representatives at the northwest Indo-China fortress which held out 56 days against the Viet Minh. Only 11 of the 753 reported subject to evacuation had been brought out previously.

Anglo-U.S. Alliance Rift Seen

LONDON (UP)—Some British observers predicted today that the reported agreement of France and the United States to proceed with a southeast Asian anti-Communist alliance, without Britain if necessary, might wreck the Anglo-American alliance.

Reports from Paris said today that France is willing to go ahead with the project, even if Britain does not join.

British foreign office spokesmen refused to comment on the Paris report.

But other British sources linked the French decision with earlier reports that the United States might be willing to intervene in Indo-China without Britain—if Australia and New Zealand agreed.

The British press and public already were angered by failure of the United States to advise of the private talks with the French in Paris on the American-sponsored defense alliance.

Prime Minister Winston Churchill as much as admitted that the United States had not advised him of the Paris talks when he discussed Indo-China Monday in the House of Commons.

He told the House in a flat, unemotional voice that he knew about the Franco-American talks, "from press reports."

Once before Churchill had been forced to admit in Commons that his American ally had not kept him posted on developments. That was when anxious members of parliament inquired about American H-bomb tests in the Pacific.

The latest storm of press criticism was not stilled by reports from Geneva that the United States has promised to keep Britain informed in the future.

The influential London Times, in a dispatch from Washington on Anglo-American differences over Indo-China said today:

IKE'S SINGLE PUNCH MAY FLOOR MCCARTHY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House indicated today there is little or no prospect President Eisenhower will change his order which led Senate investigators to suspend the McCarthy-army hearings.

From Democratic senators there were predictions the hearings never will be resumed unless Eisenhower does alter it.

The Senate investigations sub-committee voted Monday to suspend hearing until next Monday while chairman Karl Mundt (Rep.-S.D.) explores whether Eisenhower might modify his order.

'I THANK YOU, MY FRIENDS'

Hand-Shaking, Baby-Kissing Record Wins—43 Votes

JEFFERSON CITY, Tenn.

(UP)—Briscoe Holt reported he kissed 115 babies, walked 6,481 miles, shook 9,847 hands and spoke volumes during his unsuccessful campaign for Republican nomination as sheriff.

Holt placed an ad in the weekly paper to report on his futile activity. The ad also said: "I gave away two calves and five goats for barbecues. I gave away five pairs of suspenders, six ladies' dresses and 15 baby rattles."

"For prospective voters, I plowed 173 acres and spread 63 loads of barnyard fertilizer. I drew 24 buckets of water, put up 14 kitchen stoves, kindled 17 fires, . . .

"I lost two front teeth and some hair in a personal encounter with a supporter of an opponent. I attended 26 revival meetings and sang in all the choirs. . . I made love to nine grass widows and got dog-bit 39 times."

"I want to thank my 43 friends, and they are friends, for casting their votes for me."

JUST for the RECORD

DRUNK AS A: In Pasadena, Calif., liquor store manager Bill Bush, seeking the culprit who nibbled the tops from bottles and sampled their contents, finally found an opossum sleeping in the window of his store.

The animal, Bush said, reeked. The Humane Society concurred. An attendant took the intruder away in a sack—to sober up.

JUSTIFICATION: In Knoxville, Tenn., Mrs. June Patterson filed action for a divorce today. Hubby Carl, 28, pawned her wedding ring six times in four years, she said.

SO LONG: In Memphis, Tenn., Fred Oliver, 46, filed suit against a hospital for $15,000 damages yesterday because he lost his mustache during an abdominal operation.

Oliver said he was "hurt and embarrassed" when he awoke from the operation, found the mustache gone and later discovered it wouldn't grow back.

PITY: In Los Angeles a judge told confessed counterfeiter Clifford Vincent, 45, and Clarence Forrest, 49, that their homemade $20 bills were "very well done."

"It's a misfortune you didn't get a job with the U.S. Bureau of Engraving," the judge said.

Then he sentenced the pair to 15 years in prison.

'NO EXCUSE'

'Missing' Witness Fined $50

A fine of $50 with an alternative of 15 days in jail was imposed by Supreme Court Justice A. D. Macfarlane Monday upon Diana G. Wilkins, who failed to appear as a witness for the Assize Court trial this spring of Edward Lore, charged with attempted murder.

Mr. Lore was acquitted by a jury. RCMP at the time conducted a city-wide search for Mrs. Wilkins, who was a key Crown witness, but failed to discover her whereabouts. She was finally arrested Saturday and charged with failing to obey a court subpoena.

Mrs. Wilkins told Mr. Justice Macfarlane that she did not appear at the trial because she thought her husband had informed the police that she was unable to be in court.

His Lordship said he could not accept her excuse. "It is an easy thing to get in touch with police," he said.

A. de B. McPhillips represented the Crown.

WINS SUPPORT: A joint session of the South Africa Parliament today accepted introduction of Premier Daniel Malan's bill for placing colored voters on an electoral roll separate from whites. The joint session voted 163-14 in favor of allowing Malan to start the bill through legislative processes toward enactment as law. It marked a new step in the premier's battle with the courts for approval of a key part in his racial segregation program.

26 YEARS AGO: 1 HOUR, 8 MINUTES TO SEATTLE Timesman Tells of Trans-Ocean Hop in TCA Super-Constellation

BY LESLIE FOX

It is just short of 26 years ago that I made a flight from Seattle to Victoria in a trimotored Ford plane which marked the beginning of regular passenger airline service out of this city.

It was natural that my mind turned back to that day, July 23, 1928, when last week I was a guest of Trans-Canada Airlines on the inauguration of its Super-Constellation service across the Atlantic.

The ill-fated Ford tri-motor (it crashed a month later with the loss of seven lives) was one of the big airliners of its day. It carried 12 passengers and two crew. With its three engines it was supposed to be the last word in safety. It took one hour and eight minutes to fly from Seattle to the old Lansdowne Flying Field.

Today the Super-Constellation is among the foremost airliners of the times (jets excepted). A comparison spells out the quarter century growth of luxurious air travel.

Aboard the "Connie" we reached London in two hops; nine hours non-stop from Vancouver to Montreal; 11 hours non-stop Montreal to London.

At 21,000 feet over Lake Superior I was served a seven-course lunch, which included hors d'oeuvres, grapefruit, salmon, salad, roast chicken, baked Alaska and coffee. (Over the Atlantic this was supplemented with cocktails and liquors, not permitted over Canadian territory.)

SLIDE-IN TABLES It should be explained that this is the treatment in the first-class section of the airliner—incidentally the first time that such a distinction has been made on a Canadian line. It applies only to the Atlantic service.

Instead of eating with a tray on a pillow, the new plan provides a slide-in table. Meals are served with china dishes and full cutlery in place of the plastic package to which air travelers are accustomed.

There are only nine first-class seats aboard the "Connie." The other 54 tourist passenger seats are up to the usual standard.

"This trip we're carrying money we can't lose"

"Last year my wife lost her purse with $85 in it while we were on holidays. That bit into our vacation funds. But it also taught us both a lesson. Now, whenever we travel, for business or pleasure, we carry the bulk of our funds in Travellers' Cheques."

You can buy Travellers' Cheques at your nearest branch of The Dominion Bank. They're convenient and absolutely safe... no one but you can cash them. And if they're lost or stolen, The Dominion Bank will refund your money to you. You can't lose, when you carry Dominion Bank Travellers' Cheques.

Anti-Segregation Ruling Confronts South With Vast Social Problems

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — A momentous United States Supreme Court edict, that segregation of Negro and white children in public schools is unconstitutional, confronts the southern states with vast social and economic problems.

But an actual end to segregation still is months and perhaps years away.

There are those who say it will never come—that, by one device or another the south will get around the supreme court decision. But others predict a peaceful, if gradual, compliance.

The highest U.S. tribunal declared unanimously Monday that segregation "solely on the

Salary Hikes For College

An increase in pay for the registrar, librarian and junior librarian at Victoria College was approved Monday night by the Greater Victoria School Board.

Revision of the salary scale governing these three positions was recommended by the Victoria College Council.

Starting salary of the registrar and librarian is to be $3,400 with annual increments over a six-year period until the maximum salary of $4,150 is reached.

Pay for the junior librarian is to start at $2,800 with increments of $112 a year for six years when the scale will be pegged at $3,360.

The position of junior librarian will be left vacant at the end of August when Mavis Cramb resigns.

$3 Million Sports Arena, Convention Hall Turned Down

VANCOUVER (BUP) — City council Monday rejected proposals to erect a $3,000,000 combined convention hall and sports arena in downtown Vancouver. The council turned down the bid of Coleman E. Hall and Don Lauder to have the city erect the structure and turn it over to them on a 30-year lease.

basis of race" violates the U.S. Constitution.

If some states or communities should balk at complying with the Supreme Court's ruling, more legal tangles are in prospect. Associate Justice Robert H. Jackson has predicted "a generation of litigation."

Some southern senators say it may be years before school segregation ends in the south.

Governor James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, a former Supreme Court justice, said he was shocked by the decision but urged "all our people, white and colored, to exercise restraint and preserve order" until the final Supreme Court decree on mechanics. Then, he said, it will be up to the state legislature to fix the course for South Carolina.

Some northerners hailed the decision as sound and a triumph for democracy. In the south, there were some who urged caution, patience and moderation. Others took the ruling grudgingly or even bitterly.

Governor Herman Talmadge of Georgia said the decision made the constitution a scrap of paper, "blatantly ignored all law and precedent," usurped from Congress and the people the power to change the constitution and from Congress the power to make laws, and raised "a grave question as to the future course of this nation."

Thurgood Marshall, New York Negro who was special counsel for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in the segregation arguments before the Supreme Court, predicted that the south will abide by the decision and "the people will get together for the first time and work this thing out."

Saanich Will Ask Vote On New Liquor Outlets

Council Favors Plebiscite by 4-3 Margin; Strong Opposition by Reeve

By a vote of 4-3 Saanich Council Monday approved a motion requesting the provincial government to hold a liquor plebiscite on all four liquor outlets in the municipality.

The date of the plebiscite to be held in the municipality with a population of some 30,000 will be announced by Fred Hurley, provincial returning officer, as soon as the necessary machinery for the vote is set up. It will likely be held in July.

Saanich is the second municipality to initiate a plebiscite. Central Saanich two weeks ago took the same course of action.

In Victoria the plebiscite held in May was initiated by a petition from residents. Citizens voted overwhelmingly in favor of all new liquor outlets.

Mover of the motion for a liquor plebiscite in Saanich was Clr. Robert Fleming, with Clrs. Leslie Passmore, Stanley Eden and Roy Wooten voting in favor. Against the motion was Reeve Joseph Casey, Clrs. George Austin and S. W. Brock.

Reeve Says Minority Forces Issue

The motion was passed in the face of strong opposition from Reeve Casey, who charged that a "minority group" was forcing the controversial issue onto the municipality.

"I stand by my convictions," said the reeve. "There is no reason why the council should initiate a plebiscite unless the residents of Saanich request a vote."

The reeve added: "No delegation or citizens have asked me or written to the council asking for a liquor plebiscite. Why then should we force this issue onto the people?"

The reeve said he was against "minorities" running the affairs of the municipality or "dictating" to him what should be done.

"The minority tried to dictate what should be done in Victoria," he pointed out. "They forced a vote on the issue. Look what happened there. The people vote in favor of all liquor outlets."

The reeve and Clr. Fleming for a brief moment clashed over the liquor question.

Mr. Casey charged the council with giving the impression through the newspapers that "all" the people living in the Cadboro Bay district were in favor of a plebiscite. He said he had received scores of phone calls from people telling him the very opposite.

"I never said all the people were in favor of a plebiscite," replied Mr. Fleming. "I said some people living in Cadboro Bay, Ten-Mile-Point and outlying districts would like a vote."

Clr. Brock said if no person or delegation had asked for a plebiscite he was against the council initiating one. He was supported by Clr. Austin.

Councillor Says Principle Upheld

Clr. Passmore said he was voting in favor of a liquor plebiscite because he felt that every citizen should be given a chance to vote on the respective four liquor outlets.

"I'm not a teetotaler," said Mr. Passmore. "I have beer in my cellar, plus a bottle of liquor and brandy in my cupboard, but I believe in the right to vote on a subject like this."

Stating that he was not interested in whether the "wets or dries" won the plebiscite, Mr. Passmore said his main concern was the principle of the "right to vote."

"Some people have threatened to vote against me in the next elections if I approved a plebiscite," he stated. "I don't care what they do. I stand by my convictions."

"A man who wants to erect a grocery store in a district has to get the approval of the residents in the area and the town planning commission before he gets his permit approved," he added. "Why should it not be the same in the case of liquor?"

Reeve Casey said the plebiscite would cost the public money; money which would be better spent on hospitals.

"The government can well afford to spend money on a question like this," retorted Clr. Eden. "It spends money on many other things which are questionable."

Red Arms to Guatemala Seen as Threat to West

WASHINGTON (UP) — A state department spokesman said today that Communist shipment of arms to Guatemala could be considered a threat to security of the western hemisphere.

Spokesman Lincoln White said he is not forecasting any U.S. action in connection with Russian-handled shipments of arms from Poland to Guatemala. But he conceded some move could be taken against Guatemala under terms of the Rio Treaty.

The treaty provides for consultation among American nations to decide what should be done to combat any threat to the security of the western hemisphere.

White said the United States brought attention of the other American states to the arms shipment Monday. He said the action was taken here, but declined to give further details.

Officials had emphasized earlier that the United States probably will not press for action, preferring to let a Latin American nation initiate any move.

Appeal Court Grants Jelke New Trial

NEW YORK (AP) — The conviction of Minot F. (Mickey) Jelke on charges of compulsory prostitution was reversed by the New York State Supreme Court's appellate division today and his retrial ordered.

The court held that Jelke, heir to a manufacturing fortune, was deprived of a "fair and impartial trial" because certain portions of the hearings were closed to the public.

Jelke, 24, had been sentenced to serve three to six years on each of two counts of compulsory prostitution.

What's news at Inco?

We freeze 300 tons of oxygen
out of the air

Every two minutes in this modern plant, a blast like an elephant's snort tells of a modern miracle that is taking place. Under pressure at 280° below zero, air is being liquefied and the oxygen separated from nitrogen and other elements. The blast is caused by the expulsion of the nitrogen.

The oxygen, thus obtained from the air, is conducted through a pipe-line to the smelter where it is used in Inco's new oxygen process of flash smelting the copper concentrates. This process eliminates the use of coal and makes possible the economical production of a valuable by-product—sulphur dioxide—which eventually is used in making paper.

This oxygen plant, the first of its size and kind in Canada, produces more than twice as much oxygen per year as all other plants in this country. It is one example of the way Inco introduces new economies and finds uses for by-products formerly without value.

Postwar Generation Ready For Old Truths—Massey

VANCOUVER (CP) — Governor-General Massey today said he believes the postwar generation is ready to throw off the "instinct to escape from duty and responsibility."

He said in an address prepared for delivery to the University of British Columbia congregation that there is a growing concern with justice and an increasing desire to return with humility to the virtues in society which are threatened but not lost.

Mr. Massey, recipient of an honorary degree at the ceremony, recommended to the university's graduating class the virtues of justice and humility.

"I believe that in this modern world where, amid conflicting ideologies, so many are struggling back to the old truths, it

The Nation's Money

MR. BENNETT SEEMS TO ASK a fifty per cent contribution to the Pacific Great Eastern Railway extension from the Federal Government as a matter of right. British Columbia has no such right. The Federal Government, as the custodian of the Canadian people's money, must spend only in the interests of the nation as a whole. If it does not consider the PGE project as sound from a national point of view it cannot be expected to make any contribution, or at least any large contribution.

The Federal Government has never disguised its lack of confidence in the PGE extension. Repeatedly this Government and all its predecessors, Liberal and Conservative, have refused to have any part of the provincial railway, which this province built on its own responsibility. No private railway company has ever been willing to take on the PGE.

Thus in the judgment of Federal Government and private capitalists, who would have to risk their own money, the extension of the line is an unsound proposition. Why, then, should the nation's taxpayers contribute half the cost? If a smaller contribution is made—as in the case of the Quesnel-Prince George extension—it will be as a matter of grace, not of right.

In any case, Mr. Bennett is on exceedingly weak ground when he asks the nation to pay half the cost of the project at this time when he has never provided any reliable figures to prove that it will be profitable. The Legislature has been given his hopes but nothing more. The demand for a careful investigation of costs and possible traffic has been flatly refused by the provincial Government.

For its own reasons it made up its mind that the extension was a good idea and then drove its policy through the Legislature. Now it expects the Federal Government to accept the general assurances which were enough to satisfy its obedient caucus. That is to rate the intelligence of the Federal Government and of Parliament—to which the Government is accountable—very low.

No provincial Government is more jealous than Mr. Bennett's of its sovereign powers under our federal constitution. It must equally accept its own responsibilities and the PGE is one of them. Mr. Bennett, of course, is not to blame for this disastrous investment, made by others. He cannot expect to be rescued from it by the taxpayers of other provinces. And if the Federal Government agreed to rescue him it would have to rescue other provincial governments from countless local problems at incalculable cost.

Mr. Bennett's demands on Ottawa are not confined to the PGE. He says that "from now on" he is going to demand Federal contributions to various provincial projects. He cannot have any hope of getting most of them. It would appear, therefore, that he is building up an impossible case in the assurance that it will be rejected and thus offer him a grievance against the Federal Government which he will exploit for the purposes of local politics. This is the method followed with success by Mr. Duplessis in Quebec—first make unthinkable demands on the federal treasury and then, when they are rejected, blame the St. Laurent Government for all provincial difficulties.

The taxpayers of British Columbia should easily see through this strategy, for they are also federal taxpayers. They will pay their full share of every dollar spent by the Federal Government here or in any other province. If provincial leaders like Mr. Bennett and Mr. Duplessis had their way the total cost thus accumulated would be gigantic and the taxpayers of British Columbia, among others, would find it written on their federal tax bills.

Ready to Revive the Fair?

VICTORIA'S JUNIOR CHAMBER of Commerce has proved a significant point. By the success of its recent products fair, members have shown that good organization, co-operation and hard work can produce an exhibition appealing enough to draw more than 87,000 patrons.

Next year, if they can acquire enough space, they believe that they may push attendance above the 100,000 mark. Their estimate seems justifiable on the basis of the event's growth in the last few years.

Public appreciation of the event raises, almost automatically, the question of the feasibility of reviving a full provincial fair here.

It is the opinion of Junior Chamber directors that this community and surrounding territory is "fair-hungry." They believe that the public would like to see a restitution of Victoria's old provincial exhibition. But they recognize certain problems inherent in such a proposition.

In the first place, a provincial exhibition would call for particular buildings and accommodations not available since fire and later municipal action transformed the old Wilfrids fair ground into a residential subdivision. Moreover, there does not appear to be in the city or in its immediate environs a location suitable for the reconstruction of such grounds. Conceivably property might be found in Saanich and development might proceed there.

It is generally conceded that an agricultural show of substantial proportions—similar to that known to older Victorians—would be a desirable attraction for both our citizens and visitors. It is also conceded that such an enterprise would entail considerable cost—cost for buildings of limited use for other than exhibition purposes and for other facilities and space not used throughout the entire year.

With or without horse-racing, a fall fair could be a major event on the city's calendar. The PNE in Vancouver provides a current example of its value.

Perhaps, as they analyze the success of their recent effort here—an effort which does them great credit—members of the Junior Chamber might consider the broader project. If it seems desirable and practical to them, they might proceed further with a survey to determine what support they might expect for such a move were they to assume leadership in a campaign to reinstitute the fall fair.

For Lives of Service

THIS MONTH THE NURSING schools of Victoria's two hospitals have graduated some 120 nurses as well as a number of technicians.

In each case the class was the largest in history providing a gratifying addition to the ranks of women who have proved their competency in that profession.

Not only Victoria but other parts of this province, country and continents will benefit from the services rendered by these young women whose periods of preparation are now virtually over. They will help to meet the ever present personnel needs of the hospitals.

As they embark upon their careers, the good wishes of the community are extended to them. They have chosen for themselves lives of service to humanity. To them the community and country are grateful.

Something More Than Hockey

THE CANADIAN AMATEUR Hockey Association realizes how much prestige this country lost by the defeat of its team in the last world hockey championships. The fact that Russia won the title and that Canadian sportsmanship was questioned made the experience particularly distressing.

Now the CAHA has decided to select a team of the "highest calibre possible" to represent this nation next year. The team, of course, will presumably qualify under the peculiar "amateur" definition applied by Canadian hockey. That is to say it won't be an out-and-out professional organization drawing regular wages from a hockey club operating solely on commercial lines. The "highest possible calibre" won't be the highest possible calibre, because the Canadian representatives won't be a National Hockey League team.

The decision of the CAHA is understandable. But it should take into consideration one or two factors other than playing ability. When a team goes from Canada to compete in a world tournament of any kind, it automatically becomes a potential ambassador to the land it visits and to the teams from other countries competing in the tournament. It carries with it certain diplomatic responsibilities.

It is to be hoped Canada's next world tournament entry wins. If it does not, then it should be made doubly sure that its conduct in defeat invites no slander against Canadian sportsmanship.

A Night With the Bard

IF the late William Shakespeare could have been present the other night when his play "Julius Caesar" was performed on a local screen I think he would have approved. Nay, I think that for once he would have been speechless with delight and sick from sheer ecstasy.

Hutchison

"Shakespeare," said the wizened little man sitting next to me with a crackling bag of popcorn, "was pretty smart, when you come to think of it." To which his large wife replied: "Maybe, but I don't get it."

When "Julius Caesar" was hastily scribbled down by an over-worked theatre manager and produced on the disreputable fringes of London it didn't look much like Hollywood's masterpiece. The Roman Forum, no doubt, consisted of a cloth curtain or two and a couple of wooden benches. The actors very likely wore Elizabethan ruffles and trunk hose. The wives of Caesar and Brutus were boys whose voices had not yet changed and who were dressed up to look like women.

THE author-producer would have been amazed to hear that he was writing an immortal classic, for he was concerned only to write a brief stage hit and make an indifferent living.

"That's Antony on the steps there," said the man with the popcorn. "Talks just like your brother, Fred, when he's high." "No," said the large wife. "Fred talks so you can understand it. I wouldn't trust that guy with a nickel. Look at his eyes. A phony if I ever seen one."

The morning after Shakespeare put his latest play on the bare boards of the Globe Theatre there were no reviews in the newspapers, because there were no newspapers. Not one Englishman in ten thousand ever heard of "Julius Caesar" or its author. All England, save a few disreputable play-goers in London, went to their graves without even knowing the name of the greatest Englishman of all time.

IT is unquestionably true, incredible as it may seem, that the people who will read this newspaper tonight, perhaps even these lines, vastly outnumber all the people who read a line of Shakespeare in his lifetime. That shows you how civilization is progressing, how progressive education is emancipating mankind.

"Oh, boy," said my neighbor, crouching on the edge of his seat and nervously stuffing his mouth with popcorn, "they're goin' to murder that guy, they're goin' to kill him, he's dyin', he's fallin', lookit the blood, the guy hasn't got a chance, it's jest murder, I tell ya." "Me," said his wife, "I never liked these gangster films. Gives me the creeps."

EVERYBODY can read nowadays. For a few cents—a tenth of the cost of a bottle of whisky—anybody can buy the entire works of Shakespeare, or borrow them free at a library. But after high school, where a play or two may be compulsory, not many people enjoy the highest treasure of human thought. They can take Shakespeare or leave him alone, which is more than they can do with whisky.

That is why Shakespeare, if he were fortunate enough to be born into this best of all possible worlds, in this best of all possible centuries, would see at once the possibilities of the movie screen as a mass medium. He wrote his plays to fit the narrow confines of a tiny outdoor stage. What would he have done with the limitless sweep of the camera?

ONE fancies, from what is known of this curious man, this combination of lonely genius and hard-drinking conviviality at the Mermaid Tavern, that he would now be in Hollywood, with a large salary, a swimming pool at Beverly Hills, a stable of race horses and agreeable female companionship. And few theatregoers would suspect, as he produced one smash hit after another, that he was the supreme intellect of the age.

"That's Brutus," said my neighbor, "the dark one, he's so mad he's going to kill himself, oh, boy, lookit that sword will ya, right straight in the belly, whatta show, whatta show!" "It serves him right," said the wife. "I don't like that guy. Give me Bing Crosby any time."

SO the mystery remains—the mystery of a man and a people. An obscure, unlearned village boy from the country town of Stratford, who mastered a vocabulary larger than the learned Milton's and wrote better, as has been observed, because he knew less and yet knew everything; an English people reputed dull and phlegmatic who, at odd times, reveal through their shyness and their Island fog the hot conflagration of their secret nature in a Shakespeare or a Churchill.

A mystery leaping across the centuries, across an ocean and a continent and finally grasped, with reverence and imagination worthy of the author, in the garish, unlikely haunts of Hollywood.

ONE of the most hopeful facts in this deranged era is that if it produces the hydrogen bomb it can also produce "Julius Caesar" in a fashion to satisfy that strange boy from Stratford.

"So they're all killed, they're all washed up, there's Brutus layin' dead as a mackerel and, look, Antony's sorry he did it like when we caught the salmon in Saanich Arm." "But you could eat the salmon," said the wife. "Let's go home—and to think we paid a dollar and a quarter for a show like that! Don't talk to me about Shakespeare any more." "Oh, I don't know," said the husband, swallowing the last of the popcorn. "I kinda liked it."

Shakespeare, I think, would have liked it, too.

The Ladder

A Step Nearer to War

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP, From Washington

THE public confusion about American policy is so great that hardly anyone seems to have noticed we are a long step nearer to intervention in the Indo-Chinese war.

What has happened sounds innocuous. On Wednesday of last week, Ambassador Henri Bonnet informed the State Department that the French government would now like to discuss "internationalizing" the war. For practical purposes, that means the French now want to find out whether the United States will enter the war, and on what terms.

This is a wholly new development. In the last desperate weeks, the French have twice asked for what may be called one-shot interventions, in the form of American air strikes to relieve Dien Bien Phu. These two requests were rejected, although the second would have been granted if the British had gone along.

What is now under discussion is a one-shot intervention, but full-scale, permanent American involvement in the war. Furthermore, the discussion is anything but academic.

Over a month ago, the National Security Council took a firm decision to enter the Indo-Chinese war if this were necessary to save Indo-China from Communism. American policy, although falsely attacked as inconsistent, has not changed since then. Unless there is a last minute loss of will, only two conditions must be met for the Eisenhower administration to make a final commitment to France.

NO COLONIAL WAR

First, steps must be taken to still the cry that this is a colonial war. The French have in fact now made a grant of substantive independence to the Indo-Chinese peoples. The need here is to find a way to emphasize and indeed dramatize this grant of independence, without offending French opinion.

Second, there must be "united action." Secretary of State John Foster Dulles began to call for this immediately after the Security Council decision. It is still settled that we shall not act alone.

Thus far, the British government has been the main stumbling block in the way of united action, although their first attitude was encouraging. When Secretary Dulles went to London before the Geneva meeting, he got a commitment from Foreign Secretary Eden to begin discussing plans for united action to save Indo-China while the Geneva conference was in progress.

This had a sensible double purpose. The talks about united action were to demonstrate the determination of the free world to the Communists, and thus serve as a warning that an acceptable Indo-Chinese settlement had better be offered. Second, if the Communist negotiators still refused to make an acceptable offer, the planning sessions were to make all ready for the other powers to come to the aid of the French and Vietnamese when the time comes to do so.

The fateful British cabinet meetings that vetoed the air strikes to relieve Dien Bien Phu, also produced a remarkable decision to break this promise of Eden's to Dulles.

INOPTUNITE TALKS

Eden somewhat lamely informed Dulles that the British government had just remembered that the representatives of Ceylon, India, Pakistan, Burma and Indonesia were still discussing the Asian scene at Colombo. This, he said, made immediate talks about united action inopportune. So the talks were stopped just before they started.

That stalled the development of united action there and then. Since then, the communist negotiators at Geneva have made it clear they want nothing less than full communization of Indo-China. Chinese Premier Chou En-lai has also roundly ordered both Britain and America to abandon all of Asia to Communism.

Thus the British have seen the impossibility of any kind of Indo-Chinese settlement except frank, outright surrender to the Communists. Because of this, they have shown some signs of renewed interest in the united action idea.

As a kind of first instalment, talks about Indo-China are to be started with the French, British, Americans, Australians and New Zealanders sitting in, and the Asian governments being kept informed.

Despite this, it is still doubtful whether, in the long run, the British will agree to join the party. But it is no longer at all certain that the Security Council will be content to give the British the same veto power they enjoyed in the question of Dien Bien Phu air strike.

There can be more limited united action leaving out the British, but including the Indo-Chinese associated states, the French, the Philippines, Thailand and this country. This plan is understood to be favored by a strong Security Council faction, reportedly headed by Vice-President Richard Nixon and Admiral Arthur Radford.

READY TO AID

There the matter stands. Of course, the French are not asking us to come into the war now in the discussions about internationalizing the war. First of all, they only want to strengthen their hands in the Geneva talks. Second, but more important, they want to be sure we will be ready to aid France if Geneva produces no settlement.

Maybe the shaky French government will fall, and be replaced by a government of surrender. Maybe the position in Indo-China will deteriorate past saving. Maybe the Soviets and Chinese will take a warning from this new development, and order their Viet Minh puppets to offer an Indo-Chinese settlement the French can reasonably accept.

But if none of these things happen and the two American conditions are successfully met, it is now the agreed policy of the American government to join the Indo-China war.

It is hard to weigh all the complex possibilities, which should also include a fatal Franco-American disagreement about command arrangements in Indo-China. Yet it seems roughly right to say there is now one chance in three of the White House asking Congress for authority to enter the war at some time in the next month or six weeks.

MARKED for READING LIGHTER SIDE

In the worst situation there is usually a lighter side, and if someone's temperament is such that he can see it automatically, he can pull through. And, especially, if you can laugh at yourself without prompting from outside, you will be a lucky and a happy man.

—The Hon. Eben E. S. Montague.

CLOSER CONTACT

I think it would be a very good thing if enclosed religious knew more about the sins and suffering of the world. The sins, perhaps, only in a general way, because I don't think it could be helpful to know the details, but it wouldn't be at all a bad idea if they knew the lines on which the great sins of our time are committed. And as for the suffering, I think there is a great tendency for enclosed religious to lose the sense of what is going on in the world. They get a kind of unrealistic outlook upon life. The sufferings of these last years in the world since the last war have been so appalling, the concentration camps, the agonies of the displaced persons, and so much more, and all the cruelty in the world today, I think it would be a very good thing if passages from some of the books which I have been reading recently, about these things, could be read to the nuns. I think it would increase the enthusiasm and the fervor and intensity of their prayers if they knew about these things.

—Monica Baldwin, who spent 25 years as a nun, speaking on the B.B.C.

SNEAKY DRIVERS

Why should we complain about the sneaky policeman hiding behind bushes in Esquimalt? Too bad there are not enough bushes for them to hide behind all along the Esquimalt Road during the early evening rush hours and thus stop those drivers who will not stay in the bumper-to-bumper line but drive right through on the right and left of the said line and then sneak in at the entrance to the bridge. Keep up the good work policemen and get more of these blighters.

FOR FLUORIDATION

Hasn't anyone written to you in favor of fluoridation?

In spite of the flood of letters against it, I'm sure there must be many mothers who feel as I do: that if it's going to help reduce tooth decay, then it's certainly worthwhile. The people who are against it fail to mention that it has been proven statistically that it does reduce tooth decay.

From the articles I've read about the subject, the towns that have gone ahead with it have found that the children's teeth have definitely benefited. And surely if the medical and dental authorities are in favor of it they must know what they are talking about.

In the meantime, I am having my children's teeth painted with flourine at the dentist. So far they haven't been poisoned and their teeth look fine. My oldest boy, who is 10 years, hasn't had any teeth filled for nearly two years.

Come on Mothers: Let's hear from some more in favor of it. Let's cut down on dental bills and suffering for our children. Believe me, if my children are going to inherit the type of teeth I've got, anything that will cut down their dental work will be welcomed by this household.

LESSON IN COURTESY

A short time ago I read an article on the lack of courtesy shown by some in monopolizing their telephones for unnecessarily long periods while there may be others anxious for the use of the phone for emergency reasons.

The day after reading that leader I was told a true story of an incident which had taken place, I think, in Holland.

A line of cars was drawn up, awaiting their turn to take a ferry when another car drove up with two on board. They passed the line of waiting cars and went first on board the ferry. None in the line-up showing any sign of annoyance.

The visitor friend of the driver of this car was amazed and asked his friend the reason for this action and the unconcerned attitude of those behind. The answer was "they all know my errand calls for speed or I would not have taken first place. In similar circumstances any one of them would have done the same"—an example of the true courtesy of a small nation.

A Lamp That Shines

THE graduation ceremony for St. Joseph's School of Nursing is dignified and impressive. It, like other nursing graduations, is one of the best "shows in white."

"Pat" Dunn voiced the thought as he introduced himself in the role of chairman for the function. "Pat" had flown back from Kelowna on the day of the graduation. From his plane he looked down on the snowy peaks of the Coast Range and wondered if anything in white could be quite so beautiful. Sunday night he turned to the ranks of the uniformed graduates with the graceful comment: "Now I see there is."

Stott

Even if the audience at such a function weren't conditioned—and it is, being composed of parents, relatives and friends—the show would still be inspiring.

The choreography is uncomplicated. The grads file on from each side of the stage, make their bows and proceed to the tiered seats. As they are introduced and come forward for their diplomas, they step to the front of the stage, drop one foot behind another and bow again. You can almost hear some of them saying "I hope I don't trip." They don't.

During the performance the audience breaks into waves of applause—hand-clapping when the name is called, hand-clapping when the diploma has been presented and the final curtsy is made.

TRIBUTE FROM THE HEART

Sunday night there was an unbroken storm of applause for one young lady. Hinted when she came on the stage, it was taken up and amplified when her name was called and she received her award. There was no break from the time she stood up to the time she regained her seat.

Beverly Lake is a girl who started training in 1949. Two years later she contracted polio. One barrier stood between her and death—her indomitable determination to live.

Medical men who know her have told the story. Beverly Lake would not admit the final defeat. Through the agonies of her illness she willed the spark of life to stay alight. When her convalescence had progressed far enough, she returned to training. Sunday night she joined a later class for graduation.

Beverly Lake walked with a cane. Her leg is strengthened with a brace. It is not yet easy for her to move from place to place. It is a miracle that she moves at all.

This was the young lady to whom the audience at Sunday's graduation opened its heart. It saluted courage, a shining courage that flowed out from the new graduate and made life seem a little finer to all who saw her.

INSPIRATION

Hers was a presence which gave something to this year's St. Jo's graduating class few other classes could have. Her fellow grads knew it.

Nursing, itself, isn't just a profession, a job. It's a dedication. It's hard work and close contact with tragedy. It's study and the development of practical abilities. It's the building of compassion at the side of a stern discipline.

Its call goes to the young woman when she is still a girl. There are times during training when the dream of the student dims, when the problems seem too difficult, when the labor seems too hard. When the student graduates, she has shown that inner reserve which is more than competency, more than simple mastery of her subjects. She stands in the light of an ideal that commands respect.

So must it be with all nurses, but particularly to those of Sunday night's ceremony. Before them was the example of one who triumphed over almost insurmountable handicaps.

Sometimes the human spirit rides high and free. Sometimes it creates an image that all may see. The audience saw it Sunday night, and seeing, expressed its admiration in prolonged applause. No tribute ever honored an audience more.

SYNOPSIS—A low pressure centre off the Queen Charlotte Islands is moving slowly north-eastward. This storm is becoming more active as it approaches the coast. There will be light rain along the north coast in advance of the storm and showery weather will persist in that area tomorrow. Cloudiness will increase gradually over the south coast today but showers will be confined to the open coastal areas. Another warm day is in store for the southern sections of the province today with very little change on Wednesday.

NON-RESIDENT STUDENTS' HIGH SCHOOL FEE $175

Greater Victoria School Board Monday night increased its annual fees for non-residents from $150 to $175.

The increase, made on the recommendation of the finance committee under Trustee Humphrey Golby, is due to the increased per capita school costs and will affect approximately 150 students.

Rare RCN Ceremonial Highlight on May 24

Colorful Parade by 200 Navy Men Will Honor Flag Presented by Monarch

The rarely-seen, colorful ceremony of parading the Queen's Colors will be highlight of May 24 celebrations in Victoria.

The colors will be transported from Esquimalt Harbor to Inner Harbor in the destroyer HMCS Sioux, and from the ship will be paraded to the Legislative Buildings lawn by a guard of honor.

The Queen's Colors may be paraded only on certain ceremonial occasions; when a guard of honor is paraded in the presence of the reigning sovereign, or on the sovereign's official birthday.

A 200-man, seven-platoon contingent from HMCS Ontario, plus the bands of Ontario and Naden, will take part in the colorful parade ceremony, scheduled for 11:30 a.m.

The Royal Canadian Navy has two "Queen's Colors," one at Esquimalt, the other at Halifax. The Pacific Command received its colors from the late King George VI during the Royal visit to Victoria in May, 1939.

It was the first time a reigning sovereign had presented his colors to the navy on Canadian soil. Rear Admiral J. C. Hibbard, Flag Officer, Pacific Coast, received the colors from the King. Admiral Hibbard was then a lieutenant commander.

Following the ceremony, the Queen's Colors will be marched back to HMCS Naden. HMCS Sioux, berthed at the CPR's Belleville Street docks, will be open to the public from 2 to 5 p.m.

98.2% Cast Ballots In Czech Election

VIENNA, Austria (UP)—Radio Prague said today 98.2 per cent of the Czech people voted in Sunday's local elections.

It added that 93.5 per cent of the valid votes counted thus far were for candidates of the "National Front." They were the only candidates allowed on the ballot.

COLOSSAL NORTH PLAN MOVES AHEAD

Early Request for B.C. Water Planned for Hydro-Ore Project

TORONTO (CP)—Cheap power and year-round ocean transportation should make northwestern B.C. a metallurgical and electro-chemical centre for refinement of ores from many parts of the world, say the annual reports of Ventures Ltd., and Frohisher Ltd., associated holding companies.

The proposed site on the Taku River will have ocean transportation within 25 miles, and should develop into an important Canadian industrial centre.

The reports envisage a wide range of developments, including steel and heavy water for atomic reactors.

Frohisher and its subsidiary Quebec Metallurgical Industries Ltd. have been surveying the water power resources of northern British Columbia and Yukon Territory since 1952.

Their conclusion is that 4,500,000 horsepower can be developed from the upper Yukon, the Hexadeash and Salmon Rivers.

Main storage reservoirs would be formed by two dams, one in Miles canyon on the Teslin River above Whitehorse, Y.T., and the other on the Yukon River below its confluence with the big Salmon.

Storage from these reservoirs, with elevations of above 2,000 feet, would be conducted southward from Atlin Lake through rock tunnels, to be used under heads totaling 1,900 feet.

Power would be generated at "very low cost."

Basic surveys are being continued this year concerning location of tunnels, dam sites and other data.

Formal applications for conditional water licenses will be submitted to both the federal and British Columbia governments "in the near future."

It is planned, the reports state, to erect two units on the west coast of British Columbia near established power sources as

BCHIS Staff Nears End Of Refunds

380,000 Persons Get $3.8 Million

A total of some $3,800,000 has been sent out in B.C. Hospital Insurance refund cheques and the job of mailing back premium payments is almost completed.

Health Minister Eric Martin said today all cheques have now been sent out, but that many have been returned because of incorrect addresses.

Others have been returned because former BCHIS subscribers have left the province.

Originally, the government estimated a total refund of $5,000,000, but this figure was chopped down by the cutting of payroll premium deductions at the end of March, instead of April, when the new sales tax method of financing the service went into operation.

Mr. Martin has asked all persons who have not received their refund cheques by May 22 to write to BCHIS, giving their name, registration number, and past and present addresses.

In all, refunds have been mailed to 380,000 persons, for an average cheque of $10 per person.

Indian Chief's Son Drowns; Investigated

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C. (CP)—Kelly Wallace Morgan, 29-year-old son of a ranking Indian chief, was drowned during the week-end at Port Edwards, 11 miles up-coast from here.

His body was found in the water alongside the main wharf near the Nelson Brothers' Cannery. RCMP are investigating the fatality and an inquest will be held today.

Morgan was a veteran of the Second World War and the father of two children. He was the son of Chief Wallace B. Morgan of Kitwanga.

Martin Denies 'Favoritism' In Allotting BCHIS Positions

BCHIS officials and Health Minister Eric Martin denied anonymous complaints that "favoritism" is determining what employees are to be retained following mass hospital insurance service layoffs.

The complaints were made last week after several workers said they were informed that successful applicants for the 50 available jobs would be "hand-picked" by Mr. Martin.

Mr. Martin said all applications for the jobs were "considered on their individual merits by a panel composed of civil service commission and BCHIS administrative officials."

Some 200 applications for the jobs were made by the BCHIS workers, who were thrown out of work by the government's policy change on the hospital scheme at the spring session of the Legislature.

Mr. Martin said also that former BCHIS workers would receive priority on all civil service openings, and that he "hoped all of them would be placed in the near future."

"This matter is the cause of much concern to the government," he said.

FBI LETTER POSSIBLE CRIMINAL VIOLATION

WASHINGTON (AP)—Attorney-General Herbert Brownell said today the justice department is considering "possible violations of the criminal law" in the preparation and dissemination of a document Senator Joseph McCarthy presented May 4 in the McCarthy-army hearings.

Brownell made the disclosure in ruling that no part of the document should be declassified from its confidential category.

McCarthy's document was two and one-quarter pages long, in the form of a "letter" signed with the name of FBI director J. Edgar Hoover. Hoover reported he had never written such a letter but that its subject matter and parts of its language were identical to a confidential FBI memorandum of the same date.

United Church Members Urged To Participate

35% Inactive in
B.C., Says Dorey

One of the greatest strengths of the church today lies in the quality of the men and women serving the ministry, according to Rev. George Dorey, DD, Board of Home Missions of the United Church of Canada.

Speaking before a lay-meeting at the B.C. United Church conference in Metropolitan Church Monday night, Rev. Dorey had high words of praise for those working in the church, but lamented the inadequate number serving.

"The church is desperate," he said, "not only for new ministers and women workers, but for a more active participation by lay members."

Rev. Dorey expressed dissatisfaction at the number of active members in the United Church in B.C.

"This province has 35 per cent of her United Church members listed as inactive. That is the highest percentage of any province in Canada. B.C. also has the largest number of transient members of any province," he explained.

"This is a challenge to the church!"

ILLUSTRATES CHANGES

Outlining a general history of Canada, industrially and agriculturally, Rev. Dorey illustrated the changes that have taken place throughout the land.

"Before the First World War, Canadians lived a fairly static life with very few changes occurring. After that great conflict, we all thought we could return to our normal way of life."

"That was not so. Out of the First World War came a restlessness, a feeling of insecurity. The depression and the 'hungry 30s' increased that feeling, and Second World War added still more to it."

"Canada today is a mass of restless people, always ready to pull up stakes and move to a new area where opportunities are greater, where industries are springing up."

"The land is no longer static; it is on the move. And so the church must be on the move, ready to meet the challenge presented by this new type of Canada. We must do more than just preach. We must do more than pass resolutions about it. We must make a greater effort than to just welcome newcomers to the church. We must go out and meet the challenge that present-day Canada presents."

Tigers Cowed By Ted

Williams Walks, Then Jensen Homers

Cleveland's slim hold on first place in the American League is in jeopardy. Ted Williams is in town.

The lanky slugger has arrived with Boston Red Sox for a two-game series with the league-leading Indians, starting with a night game tonight. If there's one player who can knock the Tribe from their top perch it's Williams.

Just ask the Detroit Tigers. Monday the Tigers decided not to pitch to Williams, and they wound up costing them the game.

Williams came to bat in the eighth inning with the Red Sox trailing 3-1. There were two out and a runner on second.

INTENTIONAL PASS

Fred Hutchinson, Tiger skipper, ordered pitcher Ned Garver to pass Williams intentionally. Jackie Jensen, next up, hit Garver's first pitch into the seats for a three-run homer, and gave Boston a 4-3 win.

In the National League, Walter Alston's Brooklyn Dodgers are in an exact first-place tie with Philadelphia Phillies.

The Dodgers benefitted from Monday night's intra-league warfare when the Phils and St. Louis Cardinals split a pair. Philadelphia whipped St. Louis 8-4 in a game started as the second half of Sunday's double-header and suspended after six innings by Pennsylvania curfew. In the regularly scheduled game, St. Louis won 8-0. Joe Presko scattered seven hits for the first St. Louis shutout of the season.

In the only other game, the Cubs defeated Pittsburgh 10-6. The other clubs weren't scheduled.

St. Louis unleashed its home-run power in the full-length contest. Wally Moon, Rip Repulski and Ray Jablonski hit for the circuit.

Hank Sauer broke a 2-2 tie in the fifth inning with a grand slam home run that set the Cubs on the winning trail at Pittsburgh. The homer was his 12th of the season.

McDonald Gets Best of Leach

Young Bob Leach and Kerry McDonald hooked up in a tight pitchers' duel in a juvenile league baseball game at MacDonald Park, Sunday. McDonald emerging the winner as Eagles edged Esquimalt, 1-0.

McDonald allowed only two hits, while Leach gave up three, and struck out 17, one short of the league record.

Don McIntosh hurled a four-hitter and struck out 12 as James Bay whipped Sidney, 7-3. Don Perry paced the winners at the plate with three hits, while Jerry Gladson added two safeties.

Joe, Max Good Pals, Always Were in Fact

BY TOM BRANAGAN
CHICAGO (AP)—It wasn't a bit like old times when Joe Louis and Max Schmeling got together again.

Both parties were much too friendly Sunday night. And they resembled only slightly the two excellent fighters who exchanged pulverizing ring victories in the late 30's.

Louis, now a paunchy, 40, and Schmeling, 48, and mellow, got together at a Chicago night club in a visit sponsored by mutual friends.

It was the first time they had met since Louis "nearly killed" challenger Schmeling—the words are Max's—defending his heavyweight boxing title in June, 1938.

Two years before that Schmeling handed Louis his first professional boxing defeat with a 12th-round knockout. Louis didn't lose another fight until after his retirement as champion in 1943.

There were frequent reports before and after their second fight that the two had been feeling no evidence of it Sunday night.

"We were the victims of bad propaganda," said Schmeling. "There never was any bad feeling on my part."

OUTDOOR FRONT

With DENNY BOYD

Dr. Lorus Milne does not like hunters. In fact, it appears that this University of Hampshire zoology professor puts hunters in the same class as axe-murderers and dope peddlers.

Doctor Milne was in Victoria last week and addressed the Victoria Audubon Society. Times staffer Humph Davy interviewed Dr. Milne who said, among other things, that hunters should "grow up and stop killing wild-life just for the so-called sport."

Boyd

He went on to brand hunting as "an absurdity unparalleled in the history of man."

Warming up, Dr. Milne advocated the abolishing of all game and bird sanctuaries so as not to make birds and game lazy. He opined that such sanctuaries were established only to raise game and birds to be killed for the fun and thrill of it. He warned that hunting is upsetting the balance of nature, and called hunters "trigger-happy," accusing them of "shooting anything in sight."

Frank Russell, president of the Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association has a background in outdoor life that goes back 25 years and covers Canada and England.

Russell read the story in The Times and was moved to write his thoughts concerning Dr. Milne's opinions.

Concerning the story as a whole, Russell said: "It has always been the lot of the frustrated, insignificant or unknown to seek publicity by actions or statements against the accepted principles and beliefs of polite civilization."

"The inconsistencies and irrelevances in the report of his speech prove one thing conclusively: Dr. Milne must have been away from Canada for a long time."

Concerning Dr. Milne's statement that hunters are upsetting the balance of nature, Frank replies:

"Eminent biologists can and do state that careful game management and studied game regulations governing shooting of game has resulted in an abundance of game that was not even exceeded before the advent of the white man in this country."

"Very few (hunters) get their limit of game and if the depletion of game reached serious proportions, the Game Department would step in long before this became noticeably apparent."

Russell pointed out that the ban on shooting in Saanich has caused such an increase in the pheasant and deer populations that their depredations amongst crops has become a serious menace to farmers.

Dr. Milne's advocacy that would pack up all sanctuaries did not escape the eye of Russell who said in rebuttal:

"Does not Dr. Milne know that most game sanctuaries are used by transient birds, such as ducks, Brant and geese, to rest on their long migration and are definitely not used for the purpose of raising game aesthetically or for shooting purposes?"

Dr. Milne decried the practice of giving fire-arms to youngsters, as he said, "I get good and mad when I see them shooting chickadees."

Frank was short and to the point in answering that one:

"This is a matter for parental control; not for our over-worked and understaffed Game Department."

Dr. Clifford Carl, one of the greatest authorities on wild-life in North America, said Dr. Milne was rather pessimistic and that his thinking may have been colored by the fact that he has recently been in Central America, where there are no restrictions whatsoever on the shooting of birds.

"I would challenge some of his statements," said Dr. Carl. "I do not think that hunting upsets the balance of game birds and I certainly would not like to see our sanctuaries abolished."

Weinmeister Denies Giants' Grid Claim

SEATTLE (AP)—Trial of the New York Giants' suit against Arnie Weinmeister, former star tackle of the professional football club, opened here before superior judge Lloyd Sherett Monday.

The Giants, seeking to prevent Weinmeister from playing with or coaching any other team for a year, contend they exercised an option to extend his contract to May 1, 1955.

Weinmeister, who has signed as a player-coach with the British Columbia Lions of Vancouver, denies the Giants' claim and says he and the club agreed orally last year that the 1953 football season was to be his last with them.

The Giants were denied a temporary injunction against Weinmeister earlier in the year by superior judge John J. Langenbach, visiting jurist from Pacific County.

British Netters Win

LONDON (AP)—Great Britain and Italy clinched their second round series in the European zone Davis Cup play Monday, completing the line-up of eight nations for the third round to be contested in June.

The British tennis pair of Tony Mottram and Gerald Oakley won the final two singles matches from Brazil, while Italy's Gianni Cucelli and Marcello Del Bello captured their doubles match against Spain.

Denmark, which has clinched its series with Luxembourg Sunday, won its final two singles matches Monday for a 5-0 sweep.

Students Stop Clothiers' Bid

Chinese Students 4, Fletchers 3

In what could be classed as a mild upset, Chinese Students won their first game of the season Monday night at Central Park when they eked out a 4-3 win over Cec Fletchers.

By losing, Fletchers lost a chance to go into a tie for first place in the Senior A Men's Softball League.

Although Students have been having their troubles this season, they have been working out at every opportunity and the extra drill finally paid off.

Their workhorse pitcher, Wally Borgens, went the distance Monday as he and Ed Foychuk battled through nine innings, and it was Borgens, who limited the losers to four singles, who triumphed in the end.

ERRORS HURT

Students opened the scoring in the second inning by scoring two unearned runs and Fletchers got one back in the last of the fourth.

Another unearned run in the seventh put the winners up 3-1, but a costly error at first base by Dave Lowe allowed Fletchers to chase in two runs and tie up the game.

As it happened yet another error led to the final run, in the top of the eighth when Quinton Mar got a life on Verne Evans' error. Jimmy John, who had a perfect night at the plate with two doubles and a single, sacrificed Mar to second. Mar scored from the keystone sack on a hot single to left by Walter Derr.

In the last of the ninth, Fletchers got their first runner aboard, and had runners on first and second but failed to score. Tonight the battle for sole possession of first place is on again as Navy will be out to stop a four-game winning streak held by Arrow Furniture. Game time is 6:30 at Central Park.

Short score follows: R H E Chinese Students 4 110 4 9 2 Cec Fletchers 3 200 3 4 3 Borgens and Quincy Foychuk and Newman.

'KICKED MY BUCKET'

Water Boy Makes Most Of Chances

DETROIT (CP)—A stout young waterboy gave his team his best Sunday. He kayaked the opposition's star.

It happened as Toronto's Ulster United battled Germany's Fortuna Dueseldorf to a 2-2 tie in an exhibition soccer game in University of Detroit Stadium.

Midway in the second half, just after the Toronto team had tied the score, their water boy, Joe Wood, moved onto the field to refresh goalie George Anderson.

During the lull, Karl Gram-minger, the German centre-forward, wandered downfield to Anderson and Wood. Suddenly Wood brought a sweeping left from the ground, catching Gramminger flush on the jaw.

"He kicked my bucket," Wood explained.

Gramminger dropped and lay unconscious for several minutes. Finally revived, he returned to play. Police escorted Wood out about five minutes later after he had returned to the bench for congratulations.

Cockell Bounces Back, Aiming for Title Bout

By JEFF RYAN

Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Don Cockell, written off not so long ago as a boxing has-been, figures he's within punching distance of the world heavyweight title.

The British and Empire heavyweight champion, a tubby one-time blacksmith now ranked fourth behind champion Rocky Marciano, increased his status in the boxing world with a recent decision over Roland La Starza.

The cheer he manufactured within the gloomy British fight scene, bereft of a successful heavyweight contender since Welsh miner Jimmy Farr met the young Joe Louis twice, will expand considerably if Cockell wins again June 1.

The opponent is Seattle's Harry Matthews, the fighter Cockell beat last year on the west coast. The new, cockier Cockell is confident it's just another fight.

AIMING FOR MARCIANO

The new mood is illustrated in the attitude now taken toward a proposed empire title fight between the London-born boxer and Earl Walls, the Canadian heavyweight champion from Toronto. John Simpson, Cockell's manager who was "very interested" not so long ago, says it's all off.

"Now we're so near Marciano, it won't be worth our while. Walls is not in the same class."

Cockell, only five feet nine inches, weighs more than 210 pounds. Critics once claimed he fought best at the table.

His tendency to put on pounds and drastic "trimming" cost him the British and empire light-heavyweight title in June, 1952, when Randy Turpin won on a technical knockout.

After that, fights were scarce. Cockell, 25, had to start at the bottom again, but in six months was heavyweight king of Britain and empire and he has never lost a fight in this class.

At heart, says Cockell, he is really more of a farmer than anything else. Most of his spare time is spent on his Sussex pig and poultry farm.

Cockell, born in the shadow of the gas works in London's Battersea district, first fought professionally at 17 for a purse of £7. Today, he's the only real attraction in British boxing.

THE World's first detergent-action gasoline

An entirely new kind of motor fuel that ends forever the biggest single cause of engine troubles

Cleans your carburetor and keeps it clean to step up power, cut down gas waste, and give you a smoother-running, quieter engine that doesn't die at stop signs

Yours in both

At no increase in prices.

How detergent-action does a repair job on your car ... starting with the first tankful

Your car's carburetor, the "heart" of the engine, mixes air with gasoline to make the engine run. Until now it has had one annoying "heart trouble" no matter what car you drove or what gasoline you used.

Dust and dirt in air passing through carburetor

Ring of deposits
chokes off air supply

While your motor ran, a ring of deposits built up in the opening through which the air and gasoline flowed. After a few thousand miles, this ring gradually choked off the air supply during idling. Your engine began to die at stop lights and idled roughly.

1 out of 3 repair jobs caused by carburetor troubles

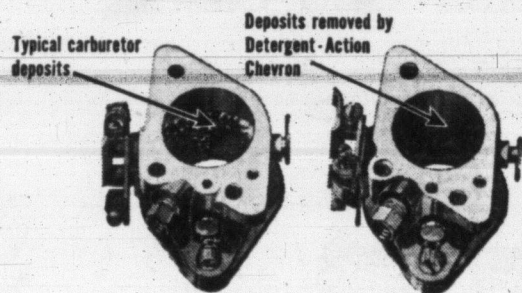

The only solution was to take your car to a repair shop and have the carburetor fixed. That's why carburetor troubles are the greatest single reason for engine repairs.

Then Standard scientists discovered the real cause: Exhaust vapors and crankcase fumes contain tiny bits of soot, gum and dust. They're drawn in with the air your engine needs and stick in the carburetor.

Removes old carburetor deposits... stops new formations with the first tankful

To cure this, we perfected a new kind of motor fuel to guard the heart of your engine—"detergent-action" gasoline—that not only cleans out the carburetor while you drive, but stops formation of new deposits. As long as you use detergent-action Chevron Gasolines you'll be safe from carburetor troubles except those due to mechanical causes.

Proved through millions of test miles

Since last November, detergent-action Chevron Gasolines have been in gas pumps in a number of Western cities. Through millions of test miles, under the toughest driving conditions, they eliminated stalling of warmed-up engines at stop signs, ended jerking and bucking in traffic, gave cars new pep and power, chalked up money-saving gas mileage (one taxi fleet reported savings up to $1200 monthly). Best of all, you get the gas-saving, trouble-ending, performance-boosting extra advantages of detergent-action without paying a penny more. Get a tankful today.

CAR REPROACHFUL; POLICE SUSPICIOUS

Police action is pending for a driver who tried to evade responsibility for an accident early Sunday by reporting his car stolen at the time.

A car hit a post at Fort and Linden at 3.10 a.m. and was abandoned after being pushed from the sidewalk. Keys were left in the car. Later the registered owner of the car came into the police station to report his car was stolen.

Police were suspicious and said today that the man had broken down under questioning and admitted that he had been driving when the accident occurred.

MYSTERY SOLVED

Neighbor Was Using His Car

VANCOUVER (CP)—Dan Muir has his car back—true, it's slightly bent, but at least he knows now it's going to stay where he puts it.

For four Fridays in a row, Mr. Muir parked his car in front of his home and when he came out the following morning there it was, but with considerable more mileage on it than when he parked it. He suspected that someone had availed themselves of a set of keys which disappeared from the vehicle a month ago.

During the week-end the car was noticed moving off with the lights out and police ambushed it, forcing it into a post.

George H. Charlton, 19-year-old bank clerk and neighbor of Mr. Muir, was charged with auto theft.

CLINTON (CP)—Mrs. Robert Cherry, 26-year-old mother of two children, was instantly killed on the Cariboo Highway north of here during the week-end when she was hit by a car as she crossed the road.

Smallwood Challenges B.C. In Race to Industrial Might

VANCOUVER (CP)—Premier Joseph Smallwood of Newfoundland gave an informal five-year report Monday on the progress of his province since it joined Canada in 1949.

In a speech to the Advertising and Sales Bureau of the Vancouver Board of Trade, he claimed for his province "the greatest acceleration of development" in Canadian history.

Where one family in 15 owned a car five years ago, he said, now one in five owns one. Hydro-electric use has doubled and development in housing has climbed 400 per cent.

Premier Smallwood said Newfoundland was going to challenge British Columbia in hydro development. "It's you or us—it is a challenge for the leading place in Canada."

He said Newfoundlanders did not intend to become Canada's "poor relations."

"We didn't become a province to lean on Ottawa," he said. However, he claimed it was "the clear duty of Canadian statesmanship to build the Atlantic provinces up to the level of B.C. and Ontario."

MURDEROUSLY ENVOIOUS

On his challenge to B.C. industry, he said:

A-G Studies Demand That Judge Be Fired

Attorney-General Robert Bonner will study a demand for dismissal of Burns Lake magistrate L. G. Saul, who by his own admission has ordered mass interdicts of Indians in that district.

Mr. Bonner said he is awaiting a letter from Indian spokesman Andy Paul, and that when he receives it he will give close study to the issue.

Magistrate Saul said during a question period at the B.C. Magistrate's convention in Vancouver last week that he was keeping Indians out of the Burns Lake beer parlor "for their own good."

Mice will find it hard to steal cheese bait from a trap if you melt the bait a little with the flame of a match.

PREMIER SMALLWOOD
"... all but your Premier"

sity was patterned on the University of British Columbia and that he had tried to "buy" UBC president Dr. Norman MacKenzie and Dr. Gordon Shrum, head of the extension department.

Premier Smallwood is here to receive an honorary doctorate of laws from UBC.

"As I see great Canadians rise," he said, "and if more money can do it—we'll steal your greatest. All except your premier; I'm sort of fond of that job myself."

Another sphere in which he said Newfoundland challenges B.C. is pulp—"we have two of the largest pulp and paper mills in Canada and also one of the last great stands of that slow-growing black spruce," which he called the superb wood for pulp-making.

First—comes Quality

Scotch Whisky has a quality all its own—it refreshes and stimulates, yet soothes and comforts. It is the perfect drink at all times. Most satisfying amongst good Scotch Whiskies is "Black & White" with a tradition for extra quality that comes from careful blending in the special "Black & White" way.

Brownie Hawkeye Camera, $7.95. In just a few years it has become the world's most popular camera. And the reason? Because, while it's just as simple and sure as you expect a Brownie to be, it gives you daylight snaps and flash shots ... in black-and-white or full color. It's the slickest, most talented Brownie camera ever. Flashholder, $4.50.

Kodak Duaflex III Camera, Kodak Lens, $17.95. You line up your picture in that big hooded viewfinder at the top and there's your subject big and clear ... just as it looks in a finished snapshot. As easy to use as a Brownie camera. Safety shutter prevents double exposures, so you don't take one picture over another. With Kodak f/8 Lens, $26.75. Flashholder, $4.50.

Kodak Pony 135 Camera, Model B, $41.25. Here's a "miniature" with new, easy, no-thread loading. Its sharp lens gives you crystal-clear black-and-white prints—and (with Kodachrome Film) those wonderful color slides, so crisp and brilliant you can hardly believe your eyes. You can project them and also have color prints made from them. Flashholder, $9.

Many Kodak dealers offer convenient terms

Kodak Film is planned to make picture-taking simple, easy, sure, at the click of a button. For black-and-white snapshots, look for Kodak Film in the new, thrifty Duo-Pak. Two rolls of film—one for your camera, one for a spare—in the popular 620, 420, and 127 sizes. Also available in single rolls. For full-color snaps, use Kodacolor Film—comes in all 6 popular sizes.

Renfrew Road Under Study

Esquimalt MLA Reports Loggers May Do Work on Timber Exchange

SOOKE—Provincial government engineers are now studying possibility of an access road from Jordan River to Port Renfrew, H. J. Bruch, MLA, told a meeting of Sooke-Jordan River Chamber of Commerce.

Impaired Driver Fined at Sooke

SOOKE—After a late Saturday night ride in a pickup truck that ended in a roadside clump of alders, two Sooke youths appeared on Monday morning before Magistrate W. A. Conder.

Driver of the truck, J. W. Murgford, pleaded guilty to a charge of impaired driving and was fined $250 and costs. The magistrate recommended a six-month suspension of his driver's license.

Passenger at the time of the accident and accused of intoxication in a public place, R. A. Vowles pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs.

Appearing at the same time and also on an impaired driving charge, D. H. Goudie pleaded guilty but requested that his case be remanded in order to give him time to obtain legal advice. His request was granted and the case will be heard on Saturday.

Cemetery By-Law Vote June 10

LANGFORD — Feature of the annual meeting of the Langford PTA Wednesday in the Community Hall will be the drawing of names for the queen contest.

Names of a number of students in Grades 9, 10 and 11 at Belmont High School have been submitted and they have been invited to attend the PTA meeting with their parents. Three of the students will be drawn and will be entered in the contest.

Association officers for the ensuing year will be elected and annual reports submitted.

Ottawa OKs $195,750 for V.I. Wharves

NANAIMO—Federal work on wharf and floats along Vancouver Island's coast amounting to $195,750 is being laid on according to word here from Colin Cameron, Ottawa member for Nanaimo riding.

Mr. Cameron said H. A. Young, deputy minister of public works, advised him that the money would be spent on wharf and float repairs, $10,000 of which is earmarked for maintenance at Nanaimo assembly docks.

Largest single item is for $121,000, toward a breakwater, dredging and floats at Cowichan Bay. The Fulford Harbor wharf, on Salt Spring Island, will be renewed at cost of $30,000, while Burgoyne Bay, Salt Spring, will get a new wharf at cost of $19,000. Renewal of the float at Georgeson Bay is estimated at $3,500 and a similar job on South Pender will cost $2,500. Mayne Island float will be put in at a cost of $2,000. Repairs at Maple Bay wharf will take another $1,750.

Float repairs are planned for Chemainus Harbor where $1,600 will be spent. Booster logs will go in at Degen's Bay on Gabriola Island and at Thetis Island at an aggregate cost of $1,400.

Mr. Cameron, however, said "there is no guarantee that all items will be proceeded with immediately as there are some times factors which delay a project."

TEREDOS ELECTROCUTED

Nanaimo Experiment May Save Millions

By TONY DICKASON
Destructive marine organisms — a plague to wooden piles, log booms and ship water systems — are being electrocuted by a recently patented process by a group of Victoria engineers. Two of the most harmful infestations in wood are the "teredo" and the "gribble," commonly called "shipworms," and loss from these sources runs into millions of dollars annually.

But experiments conducted at a Nanaimo wharf by F. Chappell and Associates the past two months, where infestation was heavy, show every indication of radically altering control methods.

Procedure is to charge the control area with low-voltage DC current. Basically the same method is used to cut corrosion in ship water systems.

First installation in Canada was made on the well-known coastal luxury liner Princess Kathleen in 1950 with assistance of Dutch engineers and chemists, who perfected the system, the result of 20 years' experimenting in Europe. Use on ship water systems in Europe is widespread.

However, application to log booms and wharf pilings is completely new and shows every indication of revolutionizing present control methods. The exact picture will not become clear for another four months but to date results in the Nanaimo test area are heartening.

"In the protected area," say the engineers, "all marine growth has been stripped from the piling. In the unprotected area, a matter of a few feet away, the marine growth is very heavy."

Suffers Chest Hurts

NANAIMO—A. H. Helgie, 91 Princess Street, was taken to Nanaimo Hospital Saturday with chest injuries after a two-car collision.

Miss Margaret A. Cultes, United Church missionary, was backing her car out of the United Church Chinese Mission property when the collision occurred. Miss Cultes was unhurt.

Thetis Island Students Vote for Queen

THETIS ISLAND—There are five competitors here for honors in Queen of Thetis Island Day, scheduled for June 14. Contestants include Sharileen Wade, Ruth Minchin, Tara McAstocker, Sharon Rogers and Dinah McAstocker.

Winner will be chosen by a school vote May 21. Dinah McAstocker was last year's winner.

ISLAND DIGEST

Lost Islander Found Near Kootenay Town

H. L. Benninger
Amnesia Victim

CAMPBELL RIVER — Missing from his home here for 12 days, Harold L. Benninger, 50, was located by RCMP Monday afternoon in the interior of B.C., near his parents' home.

RCMP spotted Mr. Benninger on the road between Creston and Cranbrook, where his parents live. His clothes were in "deplorable" condition and he appeared to be suffering from amnesia, police state.

He had been missing since May 5. The delivery truck in which he had left his home was located last week-end at Nanaimo, and he had stayed at the Balmoral Hotel. Some of his luggage was left there when he dropped out of sight.

Police took Mr. Benninger to Creston hospital for rest and observation. He was visited in hospital by a brother, who notified Mrs. Benninger here.

Community Club At Sidney Boasts 150 Membership

SIDNEY — Membership in the Sidney Community Club now exceeds 150 persons. David Peddle, president, told club members at a recent banquet at Hotel Sidney.

The club, founded a little more than a year, has had an impressive record in a variety of sports and now sponsors its own soccer squad.

RCMP Constable George Kent received a vote of thanks for his efforts in starting the organization.

Speakers during the evening included Miss Eileen Bowker, Robert Harris, A. Williamson, D. Norbury, Miss Lauren Pugh, village commissioner Harold Fox and R. Gilbert.

Nanaimo Hospital Given $1,500 Stove

NANAIMO — President Gordon Ross, Nanaimo Lions Club, handed Harold Dale, hospital administrator, a cheque for $1,500 last week, as final payment on a new $1,500 electric range for the hospital kitchen. The new stove replaces the coal-burning range used since the hospital was built in 1928. Cook Lorne Scheldrup, used to shovelling coal into the old stove, says he has practically nothing to do now but turn a switch to whistle up meals for the hospital patients.

Accidents Reduced During Safety Week

Four Mishaps in Mills, Nine in Woods Far Below Averages Compiled in 1953

Safety is no accident.

This was the conclusion reached by officials of the forest products safety week last week. The intensive five-day campaign, sponsored jointly by management, labor and government, once again proved that "safety consciousness" can cut down accidents.

During the week, only four compensable accidents were reported from the 80-odd sawmills, plywood plants and shingle mills taking part. This is against a year-round weekly average of 13 in 1953.

In the woods, only nine accidents were reported in the B.C. Loggers' Association camps; compared with last year's weekly average of 36. Pulp and paper mills boasted an accident-free record during safety week.

A new feature of this year's campaign—the fourth since safety week was launched in 1951—was in bringing safety consciousness into workers' homes. To get wives and families into the picture, some mills staged telephone quiz contests; others sent out questionnaires with a checklist of unsafe features around the home.

Since 1951, sawmill, plywood and shingle mills taking part in the annual campaign have cut the weekly injury rate by 30 per cent. Association logging camps showed a 10 per cent improvement last year, despite 17 per cent more man hours of exposure to accident-creating hazards.

House Committees Foiled Says Member

CHEMAINUS — Legislative house committees were not allowed to do the jobs they were elected to do, Robert Strachan, MLA for Cowichan-Newton, declared at a meeting here last week.

Reporting on the recent session of the legislature, Mr. Strachan said that he served on three house committees and they only met once or twice and never considered any important matters.

"In spite of the fact that two important pieces of labor legislation were brought down by the government, the labor committee only accomplished one thing, the election of a chairman."

CCF party had always been in favor of extending the PGE both north and south but they were amazed when the government brought in a bill to borrow $30,000,000. Mr. Strachan said, "We had always heard this was a non-borrowing government."

He cited several instances where the government had "about faced" on its policy toward the PGE.

Bill 28 was the most contentious piece of legislation brought down by the government. "If the trade unions fail to dot all the T's and cross all the T's, they can be hauled into court and their contracts cancelled," he said. The CCF party in comparing the new act with that of the Alberta government, found that it was in fact, section 82-b of the Alberta Labor Act. Mr. Strachan pointed out, however, that during their last session, the Alberta government had thrown this section out.

"They threw it out, and we brought it in," he said.

GRADUATION DATES SET FOR SCHOOLS

Parties Until Dawn Draw Official Frown

All-night parties, which in some places have come to characterize high school graduation, are not endorsed by the Greater Victoria School Board.

Graduation ceremonies for the five Greater Victoria High schools are scheduled between May 28 and June 11.

Letters are being sent to parents of all graduating students advising them "trustees can take no responsibility for the unseemly conduct of graduates after a school function has been officially concluded."

Graduation dances wind up between midnight and 1 a.m.

"We don't like to see students congregating elsewhere after that," municipal schools inspector John Gough, said. "We try to give the students a good time at the school functions, and do what we can to discourage them from carrying on parties in other places afterwards."

In previous years some students have gone to private homes for early-morning parties after their graduation dance or to some public place for a party and breakfast.

GRADUATION DATES

Dates for graduation ceremonies: Mount Douglas High, May 28; Oak Bay High, June 4; Mount View High, June 4; Esquimalt High, June 4; Victoria High, June 11.

Grade 12 students recommended for promotion will be permitted to leave high school June 11.

Those not recommended, who will have to write examinations set by the department of education, will write their tests during the two weeks commencing June 14.

All elementary and junior high schools will continue in session until June 24.

Schools will reopen Sept. 7.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

Many pros and cons have been advanced regarding the marital state, but at least one of the lads in our office is convinced that wedded bliss is nothing less than wonderful.

(He should know. He has been married for 32½ days at this writing.)

The main reason for his endorsement of double harness is the delightful surprise which awaits him at the noon hour. Before he was married, our boy used to dread lunchtime. He was always hungry, but he could never decide what he wanted to eat.

Thus he endured considerable mental stress every time he consulted a restaurant menu.

But now all this is changed. Our boy's bride packs a lunch for him, performing the chore behind closed doors.

Now he doesn't know what he's going to eat until he unpacks.

And his bride is nothing if not imaginative. I have just helped him take inventory on today's effort, with the following result.

Sandwiches (three). Peanut butter; cucumber; cheese and raw onion.

Hard boiled egg (one).
Tomato (one, small).
Radishes (five).
Cheese and crackers (three sets).
Pickled onions (six).
Salt (one twist of wax paper).
Raw carrots (two scraped).
Raisins (one small box).
Apple (one).
Orange (one).
Toothpick (one).

The above inventory is true, so help me.
Long may this marriage last. Also the groom's digestion.

Quite seriously, I believe this bride to be very wise, as well as industrious. Many a marriage has been wrecked because the same tired old sandwiches turn up in hubby's lunch box each day.

A wife with imagination and energy enough to provide pleasant daily surprises need not worry about her husband wandering from the straight and narrow path.

She need not fear that he will indulge in dalliance with others of the fair sex.

Not so long as he has a lovely lunch to remember his wife by.

Especially a lunch which contains plenty of raw onions.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

All provincial government offices, including the Legislative Buildings, will be closed Monday, May 24, for the observance of the Queen's birthday and the Victoria Day holiday.

The provincial museum will remain open to the public from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on the 24th.

Phillip B. Cooke, former general manager of Canadian Australasian Lines and for many years in the service of Union Steamships of New Zealand, has been named general manager of the Union Steamship Company, with headquarters in Vancouver.

Union Steamships operate six passenger ships and six freighters out of Vancouver to northern B.C., Alaska and the Puget Sound area.

Eleven witnesses were heard in the preliminary hearing at Colwood Monday of circumstances relating to a charge of attempted rape against Thomas Patrick, Welsh, 22, soldier of Work Point Barracks. He was committed for trial.

Magistrate A. I. Thomas was told the soldier had allegedly attacked a Port Renfrew Indian woman May 1 at 11 p.m. near the Songhees Reserve. T. P. O'Grady is defense counsel.

A 15 per cent boost in the price of British pottery was revealed in Victoria today, but informed sources believe most city merchants will hold prices over the tourist season.

Increased costs of raw materials, fuel and transportation were given as the reason for the boost by overseas manufacturers.

Audrea Wallace and William R. Mollard, both of Victoria, each were fined $25 in Esquimalt police court Monday for driving without a driver's license.

The Victoria YMCA Young Adults' Club will hold its second dance and social in the "Y" Mural Room on Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Plans for following weeks include film presentations, discussion groups and musical programs.

John Bamford, 341 Arnold Street, who was seriously injured in a freak accident while fishing on the Chemainus River Saturday, is recovering in Vancouver General Hospital. His condition today is reported as "good."

A charge of theft of an auto transmission was dismissed in city police court today and David Pemberton, 18, was freed.

The youth had been arrested at the scene of an attempted robbery from a city auto wrecking firm April 27 a few minutes after police had fired a warning shot at a man seen leaving the premises. A car transmission was found outside the dealer's fence.

The youth was defended by W. J. Moresby.

ANNUAL SCHOOL SPORTS SCHEDULED ON FRIDAY

This Friday will be sports day for most youngsters in the Greater Victoria school system.

Students from the five high schools in the area will congregate at Victoria High School grounds for the annual inter-high track meet.

Pupils from the larger elementary schools will hold their meet at Macdonald Park, and pupils from the smaller elementary schools will stage theirs at View Royal Elementary School.

Junior high schools will hold their meets in June. S. J. Willis and Central have theirs scheduled for June 4. Oak Bay Junior High will hold its meet on June 9.

City Teachers Chosen For Posts in Europe

Miss Margaret Sanson of Sir James Douglas and Miss Ella Creighton, teacher-in-charge of Bank Street School, have been selected from 20 city applicants to go to France or Germany to teach in schools to be established for the children of Canadian servicemen in those countries.

They will be under contract to the department of national defense and will rank as army captains with respect to quarters, rations, travel and privileges in general.

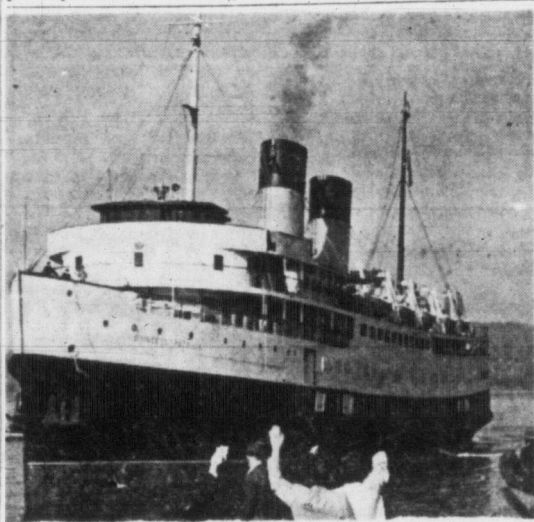

The selections by the education committee were approved Monday night by the Greater Victoria School Board in whose employ the two teachers will nominally continue with seniority and salary increments rights being retained for the two years of their overseas service.

Contract forms have been received by the board and a department representative will be in Victoria shortly to complete them.

Miss Sanson, a primary specialist certificate holder has taught for a total of 36 years, 34 of them in this district. She was kindergarten teacher at Oaklands school from 1935 to 1953.

Miss Creighton who will teach grades two and three to the servicemen's children, has a total teaching experience of 23 years, 12 in local schools.

The committee reported that factors in their selection were experience, certification, teaching ability and personality and the fact that they have never participated in a teacher plan.

Flagship Replaces Elaine

CPSS Princess Patricia, flagship of the CPR's B.C. Coast Service, will replace Princess Elaine as Vancouver day-boat this week. The coastwise luxury liner will leave Victoria at 3.30 p.m. Friday, arriving at Vancouver at 8 p.m. Elaine will make her last sailing out of Vancouver for Victoria Friday morning, and will go in for annual overhaul before coming back into service June 1. Princess Marguerite, sister ship to Princess Patricia, is already on the Seattle run, so this week will see both the CPR's "big ships" in action. Patricia's schedule will be: Leave Victoria, 3.30 p.m., arrive Vancouver, 8 p.m.; leave Vancouver, 10.15 a.m., arrive Victoria, 2.45 p.m. (Times are Pacific Daylight).

Young Boy's Strangling Ruled Accident

Death of Edward David Hutchison, 12, of Campbell River on Saturday, was "accidental, with no blame attached," a coroner's jury decided today.

The boy was strangled by a rope in a woodshed at the back of his home. His father, Edward Hutchison, told the jury David had a rope hoist rigged from the floor of the woodshed to a playground he had fixed near the roof.

It is thought he slipped from a ladder and the rope hoist became tangled around his neck.

A private funeral will be held at Campbell River.

Museum Backers Get B.C. Hearing

A three-man committee from the tourist trade group of the Chamber of Commerce soon will approach the provincial government to discuss plans for a proposed new Northwest Museum.

Authorities have claimed for years the present provincial museum is inadequate to house exhibits and native handicrafts which could be shown.

Scheduled to meet with Education Minister Ray Williston are Sam Lane, D. Angus and group chairman Bob Nelles.

Celgar to Submit Forest Plans Within Six Months

Celgar Development Co. has accepted a government offer of six months' extension of the date to submit working plans for a $65,000,000 integrated logging operation on Arrow Lakes.

The offer of the time extension was made last month by Lands Minister R. E. Sommers, in a sharply worded ultimatum to the firm.

The ultimatum warned Celgar that "large areas of forests cannot be held in reserve for indefinite periods," and that its tentatively approved forest management license might be withdrawn.

The company, in accepting the extension, agrees to proceed at once, at the end of the six months, to "enter into the final contract, and undertake within definite reasonable time limits to start construction of their plant, as originally proposed, and the completion and operation of the plant."

Surveys of the area now are in progress. The forest management license will give Celgar a supply of timber from a 1,000,000-acre area. The timber will supply lumber, pulp and paper mill operations.

TODAY'S GARDEN HINT

Composted Garden Refuse Beats Peat Moss

We read a lot these days about putting peat moss in the soil when planting trees, shrubs, or herbaceous perennials.

Years ago, when more easily available, manure was always recommended.

The only thing peat moss and manure have in common is their ability to hold moisture in the root area.

If the holding of moisture is the sole reason for using peat moss, there are other by-products of gardening which could be substituted with better results.

I have long doubted the advisability of using peat moss, with its acid reaction, for plants which are lovers of alkaline conditions.

Furthermore, many plants which have failed to survive the first year after planting, on being dug have revealed that death was due to peat moss in too great a quantity.

Child Struck By Ladder On Truck

Traffic accidents sent four persons to Royal Jubilee Hospital Monday night.

Saanich police said seven-year-old Norah Rolston, 3321 Rolston Crescent, was struck by a ladder which projected from the end of a truck. She was crossing Burnside at Tillicum at about 7.20 p.m. Truck was driven by Henry H. Porter, 3916 Wilkins Road.

The little girl was kept in hospital for treatment to cuts in her chin, below one ear and for abrasions.

A two-car collision at Cook and Yates near midnight sent a mother and son to hospital. A third injured passenger, Noella Goode, 1323 Coventry, was released after treatment to an injured knee.

Mrs. Norah Clements, 30, 1904 Foul Bay Road, and Robert Clements, eight, are both in fairly good condition according to hospital authorities. The mother suffered shock, head and knee injuries and the boy shock with possible internal injury.

They were going east on Yates in a car driven by Arthur H. Clements when in collision with a car driven by Robert G. McFarlane, HMCS Naden.

Arnott Proposes Solution To Overlapping Campaigns

Advocates of one united appeal for Greater Victoria charities stepped into the breach between Kiwanis and Salvation Army campaigns today and suggested they have the solution to overlapping fund drives.

"This situation will arise more and more in the future," said E. W. Arnott, B.C. Electric vice-president and Chamber of Commerce director. Mr. Arnott has been in the forefront of the one-appeal movement here.

Campaign chairman for the Salvation Army current $30,000 fund drive, Captain D. J. Proudfoot, had charged that Victoria Kiwanis were invading the Red Shield campaign at a time when it was at a low ebb, and draining off potential canvassers.

Denials followed from the Kiwanians, who stated through president Reg Harris, that "all we are doing is organizing our campaign for the end of the month."

"All this," continued Mr. Arnott, "very definitely indicates the need for consolidated effort. Canvassers are not available for so many appeals. They are getting fed up. One or two a year is enough."

He added that he thought that the realization of the one-big-drive-annually, or a fall and spring charity drive, will be forced on the people by the present multiplicity of effort.

Community Chest campaign chairman for 1953, Courtney Haddock agreed and said: "Community Chest would be delighted to have them all in with us. . . . Community Chest is united appeal."

EXTEND CAMPAIGN

Captain Proudfoot promised earlier that unless more than the present 238 canvassers came forward, the already two-week-old campaign would have to be prolonged into June.

Today's development indicates that the same canvassers may work on both drives. Many Kiwanians will help the Salvation Army, promised Kiwanis president Harris, and Major C. J. Milley of the Salvation Army said, "I am going out to canvass for the Kiwanis on their blitz."

"Surely, however, there must have been another month they could have had their blitz," he added.

LaPlante was taken to the police station by a citizen on May 8. Fred J. Magee, 137 Simcoe, said he had driven that night to the Eagles' clubrooms and was about to enter when he saw his car proceeding east on View Street.

He stopped a passing motorist and chased his car, catching it at Blanshard and Pandora. The driver was LaPlante, he said. There was a scuffle which ended with Magee taking LaPlante to the police station.

LaPlante told the court that he had borrowed a car that day from a used car lot because a car which he had bought required some attention under his guarantee. The car resembled Magee's.

LaPlante had been at the Eagles club too. When he came out a companion pointed to Magee's car and said it was LaPlante's. So LaPlante drove off in it.

"You brought a good deal of this trouble on yourself," said Magistrate H. C. Hall in dismissing the charge.

ASK THE TIMES

Q.—In one of the Times' editions last week I noticed an article on Flo Chadwick and I came to the conclusion she would lose approximately 15 pounds between entering the water here and emerging at Port Angeles. Is this correct? Will she lose that much weight in that one swim?—A.N.

A.—Miss Chadwick said here on January 21: "I like to build up about 20 pounds and swim at 152. In the water I expect to lose about six pounds."

Q.—Will you please tell me what day of the week was March 20, 1898?—R.E.K.

A.—That date was a Sunday.

Q.—How many Poles are there in Canada?—A.W.

A.—The Canadian census of June, 1951, showed those of Polish origin in Canada totaled 219,845, of whom 16,301 were in British Columbia. In Manitoba were 37,933, in Alberta 29,661, in Saskatchewan 26,034, and in Quebec 16,998. These were the largest provincial figures.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily. All queries should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums.

FUN WITH FIGURES

By J. A. H. HUNTER

Len and Les ran a race on the campus track, just the two of them with few spectators to witness the most unusual activity of these corpulent characters. In another way, too, this was no ordinary event: from the regular starting-line they ran twice around the circular track, but in opposite directions. It was Len's idea: "That way we won't be pacing each other," he explained to his rival. It was all the same to Les: "Start as you intend to finish," is his motto, and Len was tired of hearing the words. Today, however, both of them kept the quotation in mind and, in fact, each maintained a steady speed from start to finish. On the first lap the two met when Len was three-fifths of the way round; the second time they met, Len still had to run three hundred and fifty-two yards to complete the course. By now you'll know which was the slower; but have you figured how far it was around that track?

Thanks for the idea to: G. Purvis, Winnipeg.

Saturday's Answer: There were six fishermen.

Perky Stuffed Duckling Holds Baby's Bottle Firmly

By PENNY SAVER

Buy baby a duck that serves two purposes! This beguiling little bird of blue and pink vinylite with a yellow beak is not only fun for baby to play with, but also of practical use. Y'see, his soft back dips to conveniently hold a nursing bottle in place.

You can be sure that the bottle won't slip, for a piece of plastic slips about it, so that no matter how much baby tosses and turns, the bottle remains on the duck's back. Just place the bird beside the baby and the bottle will be raised just enough to allow the baby to nurse in comfort.

Take the bottle away and our little quilted duckling, so soft and cuddlesome, will help to send baby off to dreamland. The duck comes in a pink cardboard box, and in case you're thinking of him in terms of a gift, there is a card with the words "to baby" ... "from" ... and blanks have been left for names.

For $1.49, I doubt if you could find a more attractive or useful gift.

For the three, four, five or six-year-old are pairs of slippers, made somewhat on the idea of adults' ski sock slippers. The basic slipper is of blue chenille and it has a ruff of imitation white fur about the ankle cuff. Then, from the inside of the slipper comes the top half of a sock which fits snugly and warmly around the child's ankle. Youngsters aren't in such a hurry to kick off such a slipper, thus you can stop worrying about them catching cold from running around with bare feet on a chilly floor. Slippers cost $2.25 a pair.

The fad of wearing your name written in gold wire as a brooch seems to me making a comeback, for one local store has quite a display of them. If you don't see your name on the counter, you are invited to place an order, and for 50 cents, you'll be the owner of one of these novelty jewelry items.

AS WE LIVE

Help Child to Have Many Interests

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

Psychological one-sidedness is just as bad as physical one-sidedness. A father writes:

(Q)—"My son, who is 10 years old, is wrapped up in cars. He eats, sleeps, and breathes cars. All he wants to read or talk about are cars, and he says he wants to be an engineer and design them. He seems to know a lot about the mechanism of automobiles. He hangs around the gas station and talks to the mechanics there and they teach him a lot about their work. I think he could drive a car now if he were old enough."

"I feel that this is all right within reason, but it has gone too far. He has no interest in playing with the boys and does poor work in school, though his teachers say he is bright enough to do good work. What can we do to make him less one-sided than he is?"

(A)—You must sell your son the idea that to be a successful engineer, or to do any work connected with cars, he must develop abilities other than those directly related to cars. For example, he must do good enough work in school to be able to go to college and take an engineering course. This is a stiff course and requires hard work.

Then, explain to him that an engineer must be able to get along with all types of people. That means that he must spend some of his time playing with the boys so he can learn to get along with people.

When he gets on the subject of cars during a conversation, give him a reasonable amount of time to talk about them and then tactfully switch to some other subject. Encourage him to read the newspapers or look at the pictures of world events in the magazines. This will, in time, broaden his interests so that he will not concentrate all of his time and thoughts on cars.

As a special service to our readers, Dr. Hurlock has written a 64-page booklet, "You and Your Problems." For your copy sends 15 cents in coin with a self-addressed stamped envelope to this newspaper.

Vows Exchanged At Naden Chapel

The chapel at HMCS Naden was scene of a wedding ceremony recently when Betty Audrey Duncan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Duncan, Edmonton, Alta., repeated vows with Jerry Tobias Barnes, son of Mrs. B. Barnes, Saskatoon, Sask., and the late Mr. Barnes. Padre D. G. Peebles officiated.

The bride wore a two-piece imported dressmaker's suit of aqua linen, trimmed with rhinestones and pearls. She complemented it with a straw pixie hat and white accessories. Her corsage was of red roses and carnations.

The only attendant was Mrs. H. Etchinson, wearing a two-piece suit of navy featuring a cut-away neckline draped with a pink scarf. She had a corsage of pink carnations.

Henry Etchinson was best man.

In the continental room of the Club Sirocco, guests gathered for the reception. Mr. and Mrs. Barnes cut a wedding cake which was flanked by vases of narcissi. Dinner was served and dancing followed.

The couple will live in Victoria.

CCF Council Reorganized

Feminine members of the CCF met recently at the home of Mrs. May Campbell, 1740 Fort Street, to reorganize the Victoria branch of the CCF Women's Council. Those present were Mesdames F. Henderson, G. Johnson, M. Maloney, K. Carmichael, S. J. Wakefield, C. Crow, E. Spilbury, M. Phillips, R. Johnson, B. J. Wood and May Campbell. Mrs. R. Johnson, 158 Robertson Street, was elected president of the new group. Other officers will be elected at the next meeting on June 9 at the home of Mrs. P. E. Mickelson, 247 St. Andrews. Mrs. V. Rayment gave a talk on the history of the women's council and its educational possibilities.

TODAY'S RECIPE

SPAGHETTI CROQUETTES

Two cup cooked spaghetti, 1/2 cup thick cream sauce, 12 stuffed olives, sliced, 1/2 cup chopped nuts, 1 tsp. chopped parsley. Sautéed mushrooms chopped fine or minced ham, chicken or other left-over meat to equal about 1/2 cup.

Combine all ingredients and shape into croquettes. Fry in hot deep fat. This, with vegetables and a hearty salad, makes an easy and quick meal for four.

Young Nurse Overcomes Effects Of Polio to Win Diploma, Award

By KITTY DIXON

Prayer and determination have won for attractive Beverley Lake a graduation diploma from St. Joseph's Hospital School of Nursing and the most coveted award made to any student of the graduating class, the bursary for faithful observance of the school motto, "Non Nobis Solum" which means, "not for ourselves alone."

With the presentations, made last Sunday evening in the Royal Theatre, the young nurse more than fulfilled her ambition.

Beverley has always wanted to be a nurse, and in September, 1949, she entered St. Joseph's as a probationer to begin training for her career. She had successfully completed two years' training when polio struck. It was the most serious type, spinal bulbar, and for 11 weeks, Beverley was in an iron lung.

The doctors said she would never walk again. But instead of allowing her lifelong dream to fade away, Beverley used it as a goal. To become a nurse, she must walk again. . . . therefore, she would learn.

For a time it seemed hopeless, but Beverley's faith never waned. Then, one year after she was stricken, she took her first steps. This was at the rehabilitation centre in Vancouver, where she was trained to use her legs again.

Her progress was so outstanding that in September, 1953, she was allowed to re-enter St. Joseph's Nursing School to complete her final year as a student nurse.

Beverley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Lake, 414 Durban Street, and her brother, David, were proud onlookers when Beverley stepped out to receive her awards at the graduation ceremony. The Royal Theatre rocked with deafening applause, for everyone knew of her brave struggle for success.

There had been four other students qualified for the award, but it was the unanimous wish of these graduates that it be presented to Beverley.

"My fellow students, both classes of 1952 and 1954 have been a wonderful help to me," Beverley said. "At all times they were ready to give assistance, should I need it."

Beverley's original classmates, class of 1952, honored her with a graduation tea at the home of Miss Kay Falke, Government Street, on Saturday. They also sent her a graduation gift of a dresser set.

"The kind assistance of the sisters and doctors of the hospital have been a big help, too," the happy young nurse says, "and without their help I don't know how I would have been successful!"

Lois McGregor Wears Chantilly Lace For Marriage to Bruce W. Robertson

White Chantilly lace over tulle and satin created a regal bridal gown for Lois Valetta McGregor, who entered First United Church, Monday evening, to repeat nuptial promises with Bruce William Robertson.

The gown featured an Elizabethan collar and the décolletage was formed by lace petals edged with tulle. The bell skirt was tier upon tier of lace and sleeves were lily pointed. A fingertip veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a lace cap encrusted with seed pearls.

Reception was held at 1566 Hampshire Road, where toast to the bride was proposed by S. Hinde. A three-tier wedding cake centred the bridal table, which was covered with a hand-made lace cloth. The cake was flanked by candles and topped with a silver vase of pink sweet-heart roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Robertson left for an up-Island honeymoon. For traveling, Mrs. Robertson chose a charcoal grey dressmaker suit trimmed with black patent leather, and black patent leather shoes and bag. Her ensemble was topped with a pale

Noted Beauty Authority Advises

"Don't Fool With Pimples"

MARGELLA HOLMES (Former Beauty Editor of "Glamour" Magazine)

"As a beauty editor, many people have asked me, 'what should I do for pimples?' I always say, don't try just anything on them! Acne-type pimples are a serious condition that if neglected can permanently mar your looks. So use a medication specifically developed for pimples, and not multipurpose skin creams or ointments that are claimed to be 'also good for pimples.'"

"You see, general purpose creams and ointments do not provide in a fast-drying greasiness base the special medical ingredients so necessary in the treatment of pimples. But fortunately, today, there's a scientific medicated formulation developed especially to clear pimples, that has proven its effectiveness in actual use by thousands in Canada and the U.S. It is called CLEARASIL."

New-Type Greaseless "Base"

"The special medications in the CLEARASIL formula are contained in a new-type oil-free 'base.' This new 'base' material is not only greaseless but is also oil-absorbing, actually helps remove excess oil from skin that authorities agree is a major factor in acne. In fact, CLEARASIL has such remarkable drying action that it clears and dries pimples surprisingly fast. "CLEARASIL is antiseptic, stopping growth of bacteria that may cause and spread pimples. And since it is non-greasy, stainless, it may be left on day and night for uninterrupted medication."

Reader's Digest reported on clinical tests using CLEARASIL type medication. CLEARASIL has helped so many boys, girls and adults that it is now the largest-selling special pimple medication in America. It must work for you or money back. Only 69¢. Large economy size, $1.19. ## Opposition to Power Sub-Station Forces Saanich Hearing June 2

Strong opposition was voiced in a petition by Cedar Hill residents at a Saanich Council meeting Monday against the building of a $1,000,000 B.C. Electric Co. power sub-station in their area.

In view of the opposition to the project, the council decided to hold a public hearing on June 2 to discuss further the company's application for the construction of the power station which would serve mainly residents in the Gordon Head area.

The proposed site for the station is on Orphir Street, a centralized spot situated near Cedar Hill Cross Road, Cedar Hill Road and Shelbourne Street. The site is situated near the proposed site.

The B.C. Electric plan calls for the erection of high-tension lines to come from the north-west of the municipality to the sub-station. The cables would be laid overhead and carried on double wooden poles about 14 feet apart (H poles) carrying 132 volts.

The right-of-way, 175 feet wide, would be about five miles long. The lines would sterilize about 100 acres for development for all time in view of the high voltage the lines will carry.

The council, in dealing with the case, disregarded a recommendation of the Saanich Town Planning Commission for the appointment of a qualified electrical engineer to look into the technical aspects of the case before calling for a public hearing.

ADVOCATES OTHER AREAS
K. R. Genn, chairman of the commission, said the commission felt the sub-station should be located in industrial area, or an area where no residential development is likely to occur. "If the sub-station is located in the residential area," said Mr. Genn, "the value of surrounding property will no doubt be affected, radios and television may be interfered with, and on the whole amenities might be jeopardized."

Mr. Genn said the commission offered three suggestions which the council might investigate before deciding the issue:

1. Underground lines to the sub-station.

SCHOLARSHIPS TO HONOR AGNES McPHAIL
TORONTO (CP) — Scholarships are to be established at the school of social work, University of Toronto, in tribute to Agnes Macphail, first woman member of the House of Commons.

The Elizabeth Fry Society said today scholarships are to be for students in probation and rehabilitation or in penology should a chair be set up for such a department.

Miss Macphail was a founder and honorary president of the society.

2. Re-location of the proposed sub-station in order to decrease the length of the transmission line.

3. Construction of a double roadway making provisions in the centre for an area over which the lines might run.

The B.C. Electric might be able to adopt a part of any of three suggestions, Mr. Genn said.

WOULD PAY FOR SELF

Admitting that the cost of underground lines would be considerably higher than the cost of the overhead lines, Mr. Genn said the line in time would pay for itself and that Saanich would not suffer the loss of assessments.

Mr. Leslie Passmore suggested that the sub-station be erected on some other site. "I was thinking of Lost Lake," he said.

Reeve Casey said there were no roads to Lost Lake.

"Well, perhaps the municipality could build some roads," replied Mr. Passmore.

L. M. Salmund, 3855 Cedar Hill Road, who presented a petition signed by 107 residents, said if a recently built power substation at Langford Lake was an example of what was to be built, Cedar Hill residents wanted no such project in their district.

TO VISIT CANADA — Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, supreme commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Forces in Europe, will visit Ottawa next month for a conference with the cabinet, defense committee and the chiefs of staff June 10-11.

Brand New Power. New V8 Power in the SPECIAL—increased power in the V8 engines of the SUPER and ROADMASTER—cyclonic power in the CENTURY.

Million Dollar Ride. Lengthened wheelbases and new front-end suspension give new riding smoothness and new handling ease. More buoyant... superbly balanced.

Room-Rich Interiors. More space in the completely new bodies—more beauty with fashion fabrics and trim combined in tasteful elegance.

Wide-Swinging Doors. New swing-out front doors widen the doorway areas of all '54 Buicks, make it easier to step in and step out.

High-Visibility Instrument Panels. A handsome double-roll design with recessed dials and aircraft-type controls gives you easier reading of instruments—plus new knee room in the front seat.

Full Width Ventilator. Hood level ventilator high above the fumes and heat of the road brings in cooler, fresher air.

For Extra Good Measure. Wonderful extra-cost options such as Twin Turbine Dynaflo, Power Steering, Power Brakes, Electric Window Lifts, Power Positioned Front Seats, Wire Wheels, Air Conditioning and other pleasure-giving features.

SEE YOUR BUICK DEALER SOON

THE outlook is wide and bright for new Buick owners. They see the world through a magnificent sweep of glass in the new panoramic windshield. The wrap-around area gives 19% more visibility to the front and the sides. Corner post "blind-spots" have been taken out for safety and wider vision.

Take a good look at the next Buick you meet. You'll know it by its sleek, swift and glamorous lines. It's altogether different in a pattern of broadness that gives new symmetry of line. It's still unmistakably Buick, but a new kind of car.

And there's much more than a "new look" to these great new Buicks. There's brand new power, a better-than-ever Million Dollar ride, new front suspension, new fuel economy, and a host of other advancements. Want to know more? See these new Buicks at your Buick dealer's, try them, price them—and you'll know what beautiful buys they are in every way.

'Uncle' FDR Got Reynolds Fast Action

NEW YORK (AP) — Writer
Quentin Reynolds told Monday how he fooled the wartime French government by posing as a nephew of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

"I was not looking for any personal aggrandizement. I merely wanted to get to the front lines," he testified at his $500,000 libel suit against Hearst columnist Westbrook Pegler.

Reynolds said he was seeking to join the French forces as a Collier's war correspondent in 1940 when he composed the following cable:

"Dear Uncle Franklin:
"I am having a difficult time getting accredited to the French army. Time is important.
Would you please or cable
Premier Reynaud and ask him to hurry things. Please give my love to Aunt Eleanor Quent."

Reynolds said he showed the cable to a French official and that his accreditation came through shortly afterwards "by some coincidence."

Pegler, in a column Nov. 29, 1949, called Reynolds "a yellow coward... an absentee war correspondent... a nudist and a Russian propagandist."

Chaperoning "Casanova" on his "love adventure" are the real Casanova's valet, Lucio
(Basil Rathbone) and Francesca
(Joan Fontaine), daughter of the town grocer with whom Pippo is love-smitten. Lucio and Francesca expect to share the handsome fee that Pippo is to receive from the Duchess.

For a Hope comedy this is a pretty funny plot. The watery canals give him plenty of scope for the slapstick. But where the comedian shines is his fast, border-line patter, i.e.: "Girls are like oranges — once you've squeezed one you've squeezed them all." Or caressing one:
"Now I know the difference between boys and girls... girls are softer."

There are also some ridiculous scenes with Hope garbed as a female doing (or should it be) "The Love Song."

TWO for the SHOW

C (It's not to time)

NIGHT OUT" (Capitol): If you are an avid Bob Hope fan you can rate this up to an "A."
But even if you're not you will enjoy it.
For it makes for the merriest of evenings.

In this latest escapade of Hope he deserts the western stage of "Son of Pale Face" for a cake-icing Technicolor version of old Venice complete with canals, casements, low bridges, gondolas and gay, swirling gobs of romance.

Masquerading as history's most celebrated lover, Pippo Popolino (that's Hope), a simple tailor's apprentice and a cowardly coward, is hired by the Duchess of Genoa (Hope Emerson) to "test" the fidelity of Elena-DiGambetta (Audrey Dalton), a lovely Venetian girl to whom her son, the Duc, is engaged. As proof of his "success," the would-be Casanova is to bring back the girl's petticoat embroidered with the Duchess' family crest.

Chaperoning "Casanova" on his "love adventure" are the real Casanova's valet, Lucio
(Basil Rathbone) and Francesca
(Joan Fontaine), daughter of the town grocer with whom

VANCOUVER (CP) — Thirteen-year-old Shirley Till camped out Sunday night at Kitsilano beach while police

The reason: Her 10-year-old brother Ronald had taken her clothes home after he thought she had become lost. She wore only a bathing suit.

Police, who had started to drag Kitsilano pool, spotted the girl on the beach at noon Monday, and took her home.

NEWS BRIEFS

Four were fined in RCMP court Friday by Magistrate A. I. Thomas.

Alonso Bougeois, 1251 Pandora, paid $10 and costs for failing to obey a stop sign near Sidney. Kenneth Playfair Smith, 1911 Shotbolt, paid $10 and costs for speeding near Duncan. Dr. Eric Noel Screech, 1429 Elford, paid the same fine for the same offense.

Previous offenses caused a heavier fine for Kenneth Alan Fulmer, Old Esquimalt Road, who was also speeding in the Duncan area. He paid $30 and costs and his license will be suspended.

A young sailor who was fined $75 in early April for taking a car from a city parking lot and smashing it from the road near Duncan pleaded guilty in police court Monday to taking another car without the owner's consent. Graham Arthur Clark, HMCS Naden, also pleaded guilty to driving without a license. He will be sentenced Wednesday.

Artificial respiration revived a worker at Esquimalt Graving Dock who was knocked unconscious by an electrical wheel while changing a trolley wheel Monday.

P. G. Penson, about 50, was rushed to Royal Jubilee Hospital, where his condition is reported as "good." He is also being treated for hand burns.

Dock officials would release no details concerning the accident.

Island Horsemen Test Mounts at City Gymkhana

About 25 horses were put through their paces Sunday as Members of Vancouver Island riding clubs during a field day of the Garden City Horsemen's Club at the property of Jack Simpson, Blenkinsop Road.

About 100 persons watched the gymkhana and jumping events. Judge was G. Aitken, and organizers were C. C. Carpenter and G. McGee.

Medical Exams Ordered For Injured Students

In future, no student injured on school premises in this district will be allowed to go home until examined by a municipal health doctor or a qualified substitute.

A policy to this effect was inaugurated Monday night by the Greater Victoria School Board at the suggestion of Trustee Richard H. Reeve, who said he had received a letter on the subject from a taxpayer.

SHOCKED

VANCOUVER (CP) — "My goodness" was the reaction of 31-year-old Donald Auger Monday after being sentenced to three months by Magistrate Gordon Scott for stealing nine golf balls from a parked car. The balls were worth $5.

Banner Season Predicted for Motels

Victoria's 40 auto courts, more than half of which are on the Island Highway, are bustling with activity in preparation for a heavy rush of the tourist season.

Already in many cases bookings are months ahead. One operator predicted this season would be one of the busiest on record.

The neat, clean "motels" so popular with people with families, are having grounds and cabins spruced up. Most operators are up to their ankles in grass clippings, or painting, or working on flower beds.

Business at present is "good" they say, although there are still vacancies obtainable. However, later this year, accommodation shows every indication of being tight.

Municipal Sales Tax Exemption Motion Lost

OTTAWA (CP) — Parliament's three opposition parties agree that municipalities should not be required to pay federal sales and excise taxes on their purchases.

A motion by Opposition Leader Drew to that effect was supported by the CCF and Social Credit leaders in the Commons Monday but was ruled out of order before it came to a vote.

His motion, technically non-confidence in the government, sought Commons support for exemption of municipal councils and school boards from excise taxes and the 10 per cent sales tax on equipment and supplies.

Mr. Drew said that if municipalities are not to be given wider taxing powers through a general reallocation of tax fields, they should receive relief from increasing costs by way of tax exemption.

Speaker Rene Beaudoin studied the motion for two hours before ruling the proposal out of order on the grounds that the topic already has been discussed this session during the budget debate. Furthermore it related to a budget resolution before the House for sales tax exemption for municipalities on purchases of certain types of road-building and fire-fighting equipment.

In the interval, however, the proposal was backed by CCF leader Coldwell, Social Credit leader Low and other opposition members, and opposed by two Liberals.

500 Children, Two Bands Ready For Cenotaph Empire Day Service

The 36th annual Empire Day service arranged for Greater Victoria school children by the IODE will be staged Friday morning at 10.45 in front of the Parliament Buildings.

Close to 500 youngsters are scheduled to participate.

A massed choir will sing "Land of Our Birth" and the hymn, "O God Our Help in Ages Past."

William Pitt the younger became prime minister of Great Britain at the age of 24.

Two bands will participate: the S. J. Willis Junior High School Band and the Victoria Schools Pipe Band. Also in attendance will be sea cadets, air cadets, boy scouts, cubs and girl guides.

Stuart Keate, publisher of the Victoria Daily Times, will deliver the Empire Day message. Mrs. J. L. Gates, regent of the Victoria Municipal Chapter of the IODE, also will speak.

The ceremony will conclude with the placing of floral offerings on the base of Queen Victoria's monument. A sea cadet air cadet, scout and guide will be posted as sentries at each corner of the statue.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—
Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H. The price is only $1.19 a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly.

'Unusual' First View for Tourists

First view of Victoria for tourists arriving by ship is this miscellaneous assortment of flotsam and jetsam floating around in the Inner Harbor. George Warren, commissioner of the Publicity Bureau, calls conditions "deplorable," especially at low tide, when nostrils as well as eyes are offended. For the past two years, city has had a man under contract to keep harbor as clean as possible, but he works only at the July-August peak of the tourist season. Warren urges a clean-up campaign now. (Times Photo.)

SAANICH LIQUOR VOTE EXPECTED IN JULY

Provincial government officials said today that a liquor plebiscite in Saanich Municipality is unlikely before the end of June.

Following official notification of the municipal council's request for a plebiscite on the new liquor outlets, provincial officials will issue a writ, advertise seven clear days for registration of voters not on the voters' list, and then set the final voting date.

About 17,500 voters will be eligible to cast a ballot in the plebiscite.

A returning office may be established in the municipality to handle registrations.

The vote will be on all four types of liquor outlets: dining rooms, dining lounges, lounges and public houses. (See story, Page 3.)

Chinese Nationalists Claim War Victories

Sink Red Gunboat; Damage Jet Fighter As War Steps Up; Formosa Under Guard

TAIPEH, Formosa (UP)—Chinese Nationalist aircraft damaged a Red Chinese MIG-15 jet fighter and Nationalist destroyers sank an enemy gunboat and damaged another in bitter fighting along the China coast today, the Nationalists announced.

Nationalist losses in the latest round of the week-old flare-up of Asia's oldest war were not reported.

Nationalist propeller-driven planes, carrying the war into the skies against the sleek enemy jets, sent one smoking toward Red China along the Chekiang coast south of Shanghai. On the sea, Nationalist destroyers caught the smaller gunboats, sinking one outright with shellfire and damaging another before it escaped under the protection of Red Chinese shore batteries.

Meanwhile, the Communists were bringing pressure on the Taichung Islands, "the invasion bridge of Formosa." Unconfirmed reports said fighting has already broken out there.

Authoritative sources said the Reds will attempt to take the vital islands, if indeed they have not already started.

Large flights of Nationalist planes flew over Formosa to guard against threatened Communist air attacks on the Nationalist stronghold.

$3,000 Damage To Duncan Shop In Early Blaze

Street Cleaner Calls Firemen

A fierce, early-morning blaze today caused more than $3,000 damage to a Duncan store, which might have been completely gutted if a street cleaner had not started work at an earlier hour.

Cause of the fire which destroyed merchandise and fixtures of Westwell's Stationery and China store, Station Street, is not known.

F. W. Benty, street cleaner, spotted the blaze when he started work at 5:30 a.m., well in advance of his usual time. "I noticed a reflection on one of the windows," he said, "I thought at first it was the sun, then I walked to the store and saw flames spreading along a counter."

Duncan Volunteer Fire Department responded promptly to Mr. Benty's alarm, and quickly got the blaze under control, but not before the stock was extensively damaged.

Among items completely destroyed were cameras, cigarettes, stationery, china, and equipment. Considerable water damage was also sustained. Owner of Westwell's is Mrs. M. W. Cook and Dorothy Cook is manageress.

WIRE BRIEFS

U.K. Rail Strike

LONDON—A wildcat strike of more than 1,000 locomotive engineers and firemen tied up rail transportation throughout the west of England and Wales today. In some parts of Devon, bus drivers refused to operate emergency services.

Blasts Injure Seven

SANTA FE SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Two explosions heard five miles away touched off a huge fire at the $3,000,000 Rothchild Oil Company refinery today, injuring at least seven employees.

Fishermen Escape

VANCOUVER (UP)—A near-tragedy marked the opening of British Columbia's 1954 halibut season Monday when three fishermen narrowly escaped drowning after their 55-foot seiner sank off Hecate Island.

The trio were Lawrence A. Doving, Arnold Wennberg and Robert Wanous, all of Vancouver.

Pakistan Arrests Communist Leaders

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—Police today arrested 11 of Karachi's Communist leaders, and indicated more will be rounded up shortly.

The arrests were made under the Pakistan Safety Act which permits jailing without trial, and were launched in the wake of warnings by Premier Mohammed Ali that "the foul conspiracy of Communists should be crushed" in this Moslem state.

1,000 Strain Police Lines At Funeral of Tin Heiress

PARIS (Reuters)—A crowd of 1,000 surged against police lines today outside a flower-filled church here to witness Catholic funeral rites for runaway heiress Isabella Patino Goldsmith.

Throngs of cyclists and pedestrians followed the mournful funeral procession through Paris streets to St. Honore d'Eylau Church in the Bois de Boulogne Park.

They massed outside as mass was celebrated for the 18-year-old Bolivian beauty, who died of a brain hemorrhage last Saturday only a few hours after giving birth to a baby girl.

Jimmy Goldsmith, British hotel magnate's son who married Isabella four months ago after a whirlwind elopement to Scotland, followed his father-in-law, Bolivian tin millionaire Antenor Patino, into the church.

The young couple's baby, also named Isabella, is in an incubator at a Paris hospital and is stated to have a "good chance" of surviving. She was delivered prematurely by a caesarean operation.

SURE, AND THERE WAS NIVER A BROKEN HEAD!

DUBLIN (AP)—The Republic of Ireland today conducted one of the most orderly parliamentary elections in its brief history.

Accounts from all 26 counties of the independent republic said voters turned out early in a good humor to choose between followers of Prime Minister Eamon de Valera and John A. Costello.

Polling stations are open 12 hours.

The prevailing mild weather is expected to give de Valera some advantage. The 71-year-old prime minister's Fianna Fail men of destiny party draws its chief strength from rural areas.

Floods Claim First Victim

Train Fireman Succumbs; Kootenay Rise Critical

(From BUP and CP Dispatches)

British Columbia flood waters claimed their first life Monday night.

W. H. Wade, fireman on a CNR train that was derailed near Prince George early Saturday morning died in the Prince George Hospital of his injuries. He was one of eight persons injured when the passenger train hit a washout caused by a flash flood. Surgeons amputated a leg in an effort to save Wade's life.

260 VARIETIES OF 'BANGER'

LONDON (CP)—Come what may, Food Minister Gwilym Lloyd-George told the House of Commons Monday night, he is determined to find out just what goes into a British sausage.

Commonly known as a banger because of its fancied resemblance to a torpedo, the sausage has been surrounded by an aura of mystery ever since the meat-shy days of the Second World War when milk powder and bread infiltration into its casing in substitution for the standard meat filling.

In an attempt to dispel the fog, Lloyd-George told the House, he is polling city health departments throughout the United Kingdom and has so far received 260 highly variant replies.

Major B.C. Hydro Plans Under Discussion Wednesday

A conference which could hold the key to construction of a multi-million dollar hydro-electric development on the Columbia River basin will be held in Victoria Wednesday.

Lands and Forests Minister R. E. Sommers, and members of the Columbia River Basin Advisory Committee will grapple with the all-important matter of a payment for upstream and downstream benefits on international hydro developments.

At least three B.C. and U.S. power dams are being held up while the provincial government, and the International Joint Commission arrive at a formula for payment.

Wednesday's conference will see a concerted effort being made to clear the way for construction of dams at Mica Creek in B.C., at Libby, Montana, and at an undetermined site by the Kaiser Aluminum Co.

There is no precedent for the committee to follow in arriving at a decision. If the conference does find a formula, the plan probably will be presented to the northwest governors' power policy meeting on June 23.

Several possible formulas are being rumored, although B.C.'s position has not been revealed. It could call for an inter-exchange of power, in perpetuity, or a straight cash settlement.

Officials said B.C. does not favor the cash proposal.

Marching Column Answers Truce-Blasting Bombers

(Compiled From Reuters and UP Dispatches)

HANOI, Indo-China—The French high command today announced the first official news that a Viet Minh Communist army of 30,000 men is marching on the Red River delta, last French bastion in northern Indo-China.

Meanwhile every French bomber and fighting plane in Indo-China was thrown into an all-out attack today on the Red forces pouring down the strategic highway from Dien Bien Phu to Hanoi under protection of a "mercy truce."

B-26 Marauders and four-engined Privateers dropped 500-pound and 1,000-pound explosives on every convoy spotted between Dien Bien Phu and the town of Tuan Giao.

It was the first attack since the French ended at midnight their no bombing truce which the Reds had used to rush reinforcements from Dien Bien Phu to the Delta.

Fighter bombers joined the attack later.

The 30 miles of twisting mountain road connecting the ruined fortress and Tuan Giao had been thick with Red troops and supply trucks moving toward the delta's flanks.

The French had agreed not to bomb the road, believing the Red-Indo-Chinese would carry out previously.

Anglo-U.S. Alliance Rift Seen

LONDON (UP)—Some British observers predicted today that the reported agreement of France and the United States to proceed with a southeast Asian anti-Communist alliance, without Britain if necessary, might wreck the Anglo-American alliance.

Reports from Paris said today that France is willing to go ahead with the project, even if Britain does not join.

British foreign office spokesmen refused to comment on the Paris report.

But other British sources linked the French decision with earlier reports that the United States might be willing to intervene in Indo-China without Britain—if Australia and New Zealand agreed.

The British press and public already were angered by failure of the United States to advise of the private talks with the French in Paris on the American-sponsored defense alliance.

Prime Minister Winston Churchill as much as admitted that the United States had not advised him of the Paris talks when he discussed Indo-China Monday in the House of Commons.

He told the House in a flat, unemotional voice that he knew about the Franco-American talks, "from press reports."

Once before press reports had been forced to admit in Commons that his American ally had not kept him posted on developments. That was when anxious members of parliament inquired about American H-bomb tests in the Pacific.

The latest storm of press criticism was not stilled by reports from Geneva that the United States has promised to keep Britain informed in the future.

The influential London Times, in a dispatch from Washington on Anglo-American differences over Indo-China said today:

Blind in March Through Rome; Ask Pension Hike

ROME (Reuters)—Nearly 1,000 blind men, women and children marched through the centre of Rome at rush hour today to plead before parliament for pension increases.

"Could you live on 4,000 lire (about $6.50) a month?" their hand-painted placards asked.

It was a proud procession. Five abreast, they walked slowly, arm in arm, into the heart of the city.

Riot police, with motorcycles and radio cars stood by, but the demonstration was orderly and silent. Police cleared traffic and acted as guides.

IKE'S SINGLE PUNCH MAY FLOOR MCCARTHY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House indicated today there is little or no prospect President Eisenhower will change his order which led Senate investigators to suspend the McCarthy-army hearings.

From Democratic senators there were predictions the hearings never will be resumed unless Eisenhower does alter it.

The Senate investigations sub-committee voted Monday to suspend hearings until next Monday while chairman Karl Mundt (Rep.-S.D.) explores whether Eisenhower might modify his order.

B.C. WARDEN URGESSAANICH LIQUOR VOTE EXPECTED IN JULY

Provincial government officials said today that a liquor plebiscite in Saanich Municipality is unlikely before the end of June.

Following official notification of the municipal council's request for a plebiscite on the new liquor outlets, provincial officials will issue a writ, advertise seven clear days for registration of voters not on the voters' list, and then set the final voting date.

About 17,500 voters will be eligible to cast a ballot in the plebiscite.

A returning office may be established in the municipality to handle registrations.

The vote will be on all four types of liquor outlets: dining rooms, dining lounges, lounges and public houses. (See story, Page 3.)

Bail Jumper Mallock Dead in Mexico

OTTAWA (CP)—The RCMP was advised by Mexican police Tuesday that John Mallock, 35, Winnipeg salesman who was one of Canada's most wanted fugitives, is dead.

He died in hospital in Queretaro, Mexico, April 22, from injuries received when the car in which he was riding was in head-on collision with a truck.

Mallock failed to appear for trial in Vancouver in January, 1951, and was wanted on narcotic charges and conspiracy. His brother, Geo. Mallock, recently was sentenced to a total of 28 years in jail for similar offences in Vancouver.

Driver of Death Car Committed

(Special to The Times)

NANAIMO—Norman Malcolm Martin, 20-year-old fisherman was committed to trial in higher court by Magistrate Lionel Beevor-Potts this afternoon for dangerous driving.

Martin drove the car in which Alberta Doreen Lintick 17 died April 4 when they crashed into a telephone pole near Lantzville. Bail is set at $2,000. The preliminary Monday and today took more than eight hours. E. D. Strongtharm for Crown; Murray Reynolds acted for defense.

Petursson Remanded to June 2

TORONTO (CP)—Three men charged with conspiracy to defraud the Ontario government were remanded today to June 2 and released on bail ranging from $3,000 to $10,000.

They were Cecil H. Nelson, former chief engineer, Ontario highways department; R. F. Petursson, federal government engineering inspector, and Elmer Birdsall, vice-president, Standard Paving Company of Toronto.

18 British Seamen Jailed in Montreal

MONTREAL (CP)—Eighteen British seamen today were sentenced to three weeks each in jail after being found guilty of disobeying the lawful order of their captain.

The men walked off the British collier Shell Drake more than a week ago, claiming they could not live on British wages while working the coastal shipping trade in Canada.

Veterans' Allowance Boost Rejected

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent today turned down the Canadian Legion's renewed request for higher war veterans' allowances for 40,000 "burned-out" veterans and their dependents.

The prime minister and Veterans' Minister Lapointe conferred for 30 minutes with a legion delegation headed by president Dr. C. B. Lumsden of Wolfville, N.S.

$3,000 Damage
To Duncan Shop
In Early Blaze

Street Cleaner
Calls Firemen

A fierce, early-morning blaze today caused more than $3,000 damage to a Duncan store, which might have been completely gutted if a street cleaner had not started work at an earlier hour.

Cause of the fire which destroyed merchandise and fixtures of Westwell's Stationery and China store, Station Street, is not known.

F. W. Bentley, street cleaner, spotted the blaze when he started work at 5:30 a.m., well in advance of his usual time. "I noticed a reflection on one of the windows," he said. "I thought at first it was the sun, then I walked to the store and saw flames spreading along a counter."

Duncan Volunteer Fire Department responded promptly to Mr. Bentley's alarm, and quickly got the blaze under control, but not before the stock was extensively damaged.

Among items completely destroyed were cameras, cigarettes, stationery, china, and equipment. Considerable water damage was also sustained.

Owner of Westwell's is Mrs. M. W. Cook and Dorothy Cook is manageress.

Boeing Builds First U.S. Jet Liner

The United States first entry in the jet airliner field rolls off the assembly line at Renton, Wash. The huge four-jet liner will cruise at 550 MPH. Used as commercial transport, the plane is expected to make transcontinental flights in less than five hours. The plane was christened Stratotanker and Stratoliner by Mrs. William E. Boeing.

Horde of 30,000 Marching on Red River Delta, Last White Bastion in North Indo

(Compiled From Reuters and UP Dispatches)

HANOI, Indo-China.—The French high command tonight announced the first official news that a Viet Minh Communist army of 30,000 men is marching on the Red River Delta, last French bastion in northern Indo-China.

Meanwhile every French bomber and fighting plane in Indo-China was thrown into an all-out attack today on the forces pouring down the strategic highway from Dien Bien Phu to Hanoi under protection of a "mercy truce."

B-26 Marauders and four-engine Privateers dropped 500-pound and 1,000-pound explosives on every convoy spotted between Dien Bien Phu and the town of Tuan Gao.

It was the first attack since the French ended at midnight their no bombing truce which the Reds had used to rush reinforcements from Dien Bien Phu to the Delta.

Fighter bombers joined the attack later.

The 30 miles of twisting mountain road connecting the ruined fortress and Tuan Gao had been thick with Red troops and supply trucks moving toward the Delta's flanks.

The French had agreed not to bomb the road, believing the Red Indo-Chinese would carry out their promise to evacuate

B.C. Flood Waters
Claim First Victim

(From BUP and CP Dispatches)

British Columbia flood waters claimed their first life Monday night.

W. H. Wade, fireman on a CNR train that was derailed near Prince George early Saturday morning died in the Prince George Hospital of his injuries. He was one of eight persons injured when the passenger train hit a washout caused by a flash flood. Surgeons amputated a leg in an effort to save Wade's life.

Meanwhile the Seattle district office of the Army Corps of Engineers warned Monday night that a serious flood can be expected in the rich Kootenay Flats of British Columbia and northern Idaho by the end of the week, and possibly by Friday.

The engineers said the Kootenay River, fed by rapidly melting snow on its upper reaches, will hit 32 feet in the Bonners Ferry, Idaho, area by Wednesday and may top the 33-foot mark by the coming week-end.

Flood stage at Bonners Ferry is recorded at 31 feet. The engineers said 35 1/2 feet is the average flood stage and that 37 feet is considered the maximum flood stage.

Col. N. A. Matthias, district engineer, said some water was seeping through the levees along the Kootenay Monday night and that the situation at Bonners Ferry is "critical."

The Kootenay Flats, a rich agricultural and stock area, covers some 74,000 acres in British Columbia and northern Idaho.

'No Deterrent Effect'
Christie Tells Probe

OTTAWA (BUP)—The death sentence for capital crimes should be abolished and replaced with life imprisonment, Hugh Christie, warden of British Columbia's Oakalla Prison, told the Senate-Commons committee on capital and corporal punishment today.

"I firmly believe that capital punishment has no deterrent effect that can be considered significant," he said. "Its abolition would eliminate a brutalizing influence on society . . . and the decision to abolish it is in my mind inevitable."

"Capital punishment could unquestionably deter the normal person from committing murder, but a normal person does not murder."

He told the group it would "soon be impossible" for society to retain either capital or corporal punishment as methods of control.

HATED CONTINUES

Use of the strap, paddle or lash, Christie said, only "increases a psychopathic person's hostility to society and leads to some other form of anti-social act."

"The emotions overrule the reason in a disturbed person and despite the punishment the casual factor for the hatred of society is still there," he said. "The psychopath must express hostility to get the same comfortable feeling that a normal person gets from expressing love and affection."

Christie added, however, that it would be "dangerous to take corporal punishment away from an institution if it had no other means of control." The time had come to substitute alternatives, he said.

Christie said an alternative experiment had been tried at Little Hope Canadian Troops to Quit Korea

OTTAWA (CP)—A reference in a government white paper on defense to possible withdrawal of Canadian troops from Korea is a "pious hope," informants said today.

The white paper, tabled in the Commons Monday by Defense Minister Claxton, said: "It is hoped that the situation in Korea may improve to permit some reduction to Canadian forces there in the not too distant future."

"There has been no development at Geneva that would make withdrawal of Canadian troops any more likely than a few months ago," one official said.

Fishermen Escape

VANCOUVER (BUP)—A near-tragedy marked the opening of British Columbia's 1954 halibut season Monday when three fishermen narrowly escaped drowning after their 55-foot seiner sank off Hecate Island.

The trio were Lawrence A. Doving, Arnold Wennberg and Robert Wanous, all of Vancouver.

Blasts Injure Seven

SANTA FE SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Two explosions heard five miles away touched off a huge fire at the $3,000,000 Rothschild Oil Company refinery today, injuring at least seven employees.

As Massey Presents Awards

VANCOUVER (CP)—A 14-year-old boy stood out among a roomful of uniforms today, the only civilian as 31 persons were decorated by Governor-General Vincent Massey.

And the deed which won Robert Thomas Waters the George Medal stood out among all those listed on the 31 citations for gallantry. Of the rest, 24 awards went to the army, five to the RCAF and one to the RCN.

November 24, 1952, at the huge RCAF base at Comox, B.C., on Vancouver Island, near Robert's farm home, a Lancaster bomber was coming in for a landing with a crew of two and six trainees returning from leave. It undershot the runway and piled in a flaming heap into a swamp. Robert's citation tells it from there:

"Robert Waters fought his way through heavy bush and

Start Ordered
On $6 Million
Squamish RoadPGE Extension
Not Affected

A highway will be constructed between Squamish and Vancouver, following the Howe Sound route of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway extension, Public Works Minister P. A. Gagliardi announced today.

Construction of the highway, which will be a two-lane, standard road, will start in "about two months," he said, about the same time as construction gets underway on the PGE.

In addition to providing a road outlet to Squamish, the highway will break through the coast mountain barrier to Gaird Park.

Mr. Gagliardi would make no estimate of the cost, but the previous Liberal administration set aside $3,000,000 for its construction.

Estimates range from $3,500,000 to $6,000,000.

The Liberal party has pressed for the road as an alternative to the PGE extension, but Mr. Gagliardi said today's announcement would have no effect on the railway construction.

Selection of the Howe Sound route came as an answer to the refusal of the later Vancouver Water Board to allow construction of the road through the Capilano watershed for health and fire reasons.

Blind in March Through Rome;
Ask Pension Hike

ROME (Reuters) — Nearly 1,000 blind men, women and children marched through the centre of Rome at rush hour today to plead before parliament for pension increases.

It was a proud procession. Five abreast, they walked slowly, arm in arm, into the heart of the city.

Riot police, with motorcycles and radio cars stood by, but the demonstration was orderly and silent. Police cleared traffic and acted as guides.

"Could you live on 4,000 lire (about $6.50) a month?" their hand-painted placards asked.
